

BLANKETEERS WIN THREE MORE

Defeat High Point, Yadkinville and Statesville; Victories Number 32; Losses 2

The Chatham Blanketeers of the Elkin plant continued their winning ways by defeating three strong opponents in last week's play to run their string of victories to 32 while losing only two games this season.

The High Point team put up a good fight and was one of the best teams the Blanketeers have met this season and during the game the score was tied 12 times, but in the last quarter the Chatham team put on a great display of passing and shooting to eke out a 40 to 39 victory. The High Point team had a good man in Thomas, who led the scoring with 22 points, and Gruneau, former N. C. State star who did good work on defense. The entire Blanketeer team was in top form.

In the game with the Yadkinville Cardinals the Chatham team won by a score of 44 to 34 and in this game Coach Hambright used two teams and the Chatham substitutes showed up well by playing on even terms with the Yadkinville team.

The strong Statesville Firemen team was defeated by the Blanketeers on the Yadkinville high school court by the score of 38 to 31 in what was said to be the best game ever played in the Yadkinville gym. The Statesville team had won 15 straight games before being defeated by the Chatham team, and playing all the outstanding teams in western North Carolina.

The work of Bradford and Wagoner visiting center and guard was outstanding for the Firemen, while Crater was the offensive star of the game with a total of 17 points. Maxwell and McBride did wonderful work on defense.

Chatham Products Now Advertised By Radio

Grady Cole, News Commentator, Featured On Broadcasts Three Times Weekly Over WBT, Charlotte, Advertising Chatham Blankets and Honespuns. Programs Begin at 5:45 Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Calling the attention of the world to the merits of Chatham homespuns and Chatham blankets the Chatham Manufacturing company is now sponsoring a series of fifteen-minute broadcasts over radio station WBT, Charlotte, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week at 5:45 p. m.

Grady Cole, news commentator and sports editor of the air is featured in the broadcasts. To thoroughly familiarize himself with the products he is boosting, he visited both the Elkin and Winston-Salem plants of the company.

Accompanied by Mrs. Cole and the pilot of the plane in which he flew here from Charlotte, Johnny Crowell, Mr. Cole first inspected the local mill and then flew to Winston-Salem where he made a tour of inspection of the plant there. He then flew back to Charlotte.

Chatham homespuns, first introduced commercially here a short while ago are fast winning nation-wide recognition, and, as Chatham blankets have already done, are rapidly making a place for themselves in the world of good clothes.

DAVID HOPE MATHIS

David Hope Mathis, small son of Mrs. Dora Mathis, born Dec. 24, 1934, died Jan. 20, 1935. He is survived by his mother, three sisters, Louise, Maxine and Ila Mae. The father passed away just before the child was born.

The funeral was held Monday evening at 2 o'clock, from the Swan Creek Baptist church, with the pastor in charge.

BLANKETEERS TO ENTER CONTEST

Team Invited to Play in Tournament of Southern Basketball Association At Atlanta

The Blanketeers have made a name for themselves. They are good. A really great record proves it, and their success has spread. Not only does North Carolina know about them, but the whole south wants a chance to see them in action. They have been invited to play in Atlanta, Ga., in the tournament of the Southern Basketball Association on February 14th, 15th and 16th.

Not every team is invited—only the best. In fact, only 14 teams are invited from three states. This shows the high regard in which the Blanketeers are held by basket ball experts.

The invitation has not yet been accepted. When, and if it is accepted, there is no doubt that the Blanketeers will give a good account of themselves and prove their right to be classed as ANOTHER FINE CHATHAM PRODUCT. LET'S GO!

CHATHAM PLANTS HIGHLY PRAISED

Said to be Among Finest Equipped, Cleanest and Best Managed in the Country

The Elkin and Winston-Salem plants of the Chatham Manufacturing company were highly praised for equipment, cleanliness and management last week by Dr. E. W. France, of Philadelphia, head of the Philadelphia Textile school, who, accompanied by his friend and associate, Ted Haywood, was on a tour of inspection of some of the larger mills of the south.

In speaking of the Chatham plants, Dr. France said they were among the "finest equipped, cleanest and best managed mills" he has seen anywhere. He also stated that the employees of the Chatham company are of the highest class he has ever seen.
