

CHATHAM NIGHT IS OBSERVED

Employees of Winston Mill Enjoy Delightful Evening of Entertainment and Recreation

Employees of the Winston Mill enjoyed a very delightful evening at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night, February 22nd. Chatham Night being observed, at which time all Chatham employees had been invited to an evening of entertainment and recreation. Upon the arrival of the guests Mr. Coons, local secretary of the Y. M. C. A., made an interesting welcome address, following which Thurmond Chatham spoke on the good the Y. M. C. A. was doing in the community and stressed the point that more of the parents should send their boys to the Y. M. C. A. building to take advantage of the things offered there. At 7:30 o'clock a basketball game was staged between the Chatham girls and the Brown and Williamson girls. This resulted in a tie, the score being 12 to 12. Following the game contests, relays and other entertainments were enjoyed.

The balloon race and the baby relay proved the most exciting. At nine o'clock all who wished to do so enjoyed a swim in the beautiful Y pool. Those not desiring to swim were invited into the boy's department where two long tables engaged in the playing of "Bingo", with the following winning prizes: Ellis Hall, Ralph Sutton and Mrs. Fred N. Day, Jr.

The evening came to a close with the serving of a delicious oyster supper in the dining room which had been decorated in keeping with Washington's birthday. About one hundred and twenty-five employees enjoyed the delightful occasion.

Ruby Lee Sprinkle

Final rites for Ruby Lee Sprinkle three - months - old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lee Sprinkle, 749 Plum St., who passed away Saturday night, Feb. 23rd, were held from the home Monday morning with Rev. L. H. Fortson in charge and at the New Prospect Baptist church, Iredell county, with Rev. Grady White officiating. Burial followed in the church graveyard. Mrs. Sprinkle will be remembered in the Winston Mill as Miss Margaret Stoneman, and she has many friends who will be sorry to hear of her recent sorrow.

Tells Why We Should Be Proud of Our Mill

Visitor Points Out Many Reasons Why Every Employee Should Take Pride In Company; Says Personnel Is Like A Big Family Instead of Worker and Employee; Environment Unsurpassed

Why should you be proud of your mill?

First: The feeling of your employer toward you personally. In my travels through your mill I noticed a spirit that existed that was one of a family instead of worker and employer. When one appreciates the personal interest that his employer takes in his personal or intimate affairs, it is bound to make us do our best to show our appreciation for this interest.

Second: Your environment is unsurpassed by none. Your working conditions are perfect. The intelligence of all I have met is gratifying. The appearance and carriage of the personnel is something that is worthy of favorable comment. It fits in well with the manner you keep your mill in appearance and sanitation. The neatness and personal appearance of all the employees is indeed gratifying.

Third: Your readiness to advertise the products you make. It is something rarely done in other establishments. This proves that where spirit, environment and intelligence exist, qualities are bound to be high. If we all combine in these qualities we are bound to succeed and make this world a pleasant place in which to live.

Winston Mill Enjoys Services

For several weeks the employees of the Winston Mill have been enjoying a short devotional services held at lunch time on Thursday. This is being sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and conducted by different ministers of the Winston Ministerial Association. Up to the present time the following ministers have had charge of the services: Rev. Stevens, of the Salem Baptist church, Feb. 7th; Rev. C. C. Roberts, of the Fourth St. Church of Christ; Rev. Carl Helmich, of Christ Moravion church, Feb. 21; and Rev. N. C. Teague, Feb. 28th.

These services are indeed helpful and it is hoped that more of the employees will take advantage of this opportunity to hear these men.

"I always seek the good that is in people and leave the bad to Him who made mankind and knows how to round off the corners."—Goethe's Mother.

Choose a book as you would choose a friend. Go often to the house of thy friend; for the weeds soon choke up the unused path.—Scandinavian Proverb.

William F. Reece Taken By Death
