

Champagne Team Made An Outstanding Record

WON 56 GAMES AND LOST ONLY 4 THIS SEASON

Finishing Won Second Place And Endless Belt Finish- ed In Third Place

With a marvelous record of 56 victories and only 4 defeats, the championship winning Champagne team won first place in the women's division of the Ecusta Bowling league which ended Thursday night, March 23.

"Our record was not quite as good as last season when we won 59 and lost 1 game," Captain Ann Morris stated, and added, "we had better competition this season."

Thursday night Finishing won three games from Endless Belt and completed the season in second place. Their record for the season is 37 won and 23 lost, for a percentage average of .616.

Endless Belt came out in third place, winning 32 games and losing 36 for an average of .513.

Members of the Champagne team are Lou Lockman, Maymie Reynolds, Mary Merrill, Martha Taylor and Captain Morris. Mary Prince has been substituting.

High individual averages for the season are as follows: Lou Lockman, first place with an average of 98, Ann Morris second place, 97 and Mary Merrill third place, 92. All three of them are on the Champagne team.

Lou Lockman also made high individual set score during the season, bowling 320. Margaret Collins rolled high individual game score, 130.

Singles and doubles tourneys will be started next Thursday night. Prizes will be awarded to winners.

The final standing is as follows:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Champagne	56	4	.933
Finishing	37	23	.616
Endless Belt	32	28	.533
Control	24	36	.400

The Atlanta Journal, Slim's family disowned his great aunt, Martha Bullock, and changed their name to Bullock because she married a Yankee Republican, Theodore Roosevelt, who later became president of the United States.

His principal hobby is trying to get more miles to the gallon on his old Ford which he has rebuilt a few times and which uses only three cylinders.

Slim's many friends wish him success in his new job.

Champagne Bowlers Again Win In Ecusta Bowling League

Ecusta Girls Take Time-Out From Bowling

While the members of six girls' teams in the Ecusta Bowling league took time-out from bowling one evening recently, the Echo photographer took advantage of the opportunity to get a picture of the "whole gang," including their star score-keeper, Marjorine Bevacqua.

Ecustans Are Now

Seventy-five acres of land adjoining the plant have been set aside for Victory Gardens and approximately 84 gardens will be planted here.

Soil samples of each Victory Garden area have been analyzed by the N. C. Department of Agriculture and within a few days each gardener will be notified as to the grade and amount of fertilizer that is recommended for use on his particular plot.

The government is asking for an increase in the number of Victory Gardens and Ecustans are expected to do their part.

Al Ream Is Now

efficient Pulp Mill operation and it is expected that Slim and "Baldy" will make an excellent team.

Al's principal hobby is stock market analysis and figuring how a person could get richer if they were rich. We hope everyone won't start bothering him for tips on the market because, after all, he has a job to do.

Captains Of Our Girls' Bowling Teams

Sure they're good looking and they're good bowlers as well as bowling executives, too. They piloted their teams through the 1943-44 season. Reading from left to right, front, Sue Allen and Lucy Clarke; back row, Mildred Carpenter, Ann Morris, Ilene Nelson and Mary Sue Thorn.
