Edna Earle Nanney And Erwin Schranz Married April 9th

Miss Edna Earle Nanney, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Burdette Thomas Nanney, of Brevard, became the bride of Erwin Schranz, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Schranz, of Berne, Switzerland and Brevard, in a ceremony at the Brevard First Baptist church April 9.

Dr. Hoyt Blackwell, president of Mars Hill college, performed the ceremony. The church was decorated with baskets of spring flowers and cathedral candles. The wedding music was played by Miss Mary Brooks, organist, of Hendersonville, and John Eversman, violinist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore her sister's wedding gown. Her bouquet was of white calla lilies and gardenias.

Mrs. James Stanley Buckner, of Tampa, Fla., sister of the bride, was matron of honor and her only attendant. Frank Kerber, of the Champagne printing department, was best man. Ushers were William P. Tindall, Kenneth L. Barkley, Paul S. Kellar and Lloyd Q. Harris, all Ecusta employees.

Mrs. Schranz is employed in the Physical testing laboratory and Mr. Schranz in the engineering office as chief draftsman at Ecusta.

Your Guide To Daily Living

From Washington Bureau

FOR SOUNDER LIVING — Before long you should be able to buy more and better sleeping equipment—metal coil spring, box springs, sofa beds and cots. But inner spring mattresses are still on the prohibited list and will be for some time to come.

PLAIN BUT GOOD — The new electric irons won't be the best and fanciest manufacturers know how to make, but they'll fall in the medium brackets of price and quality. Probably most of them will be automatic.

SUGAR'S SCARCE — Your allotment of sugar for home canning is as liberal as it is, partly because the Army's demands for commercially canned fruit are great and we need to can as much at home as is humanly possible. It isn't because there's plenty of sugar; in fact, there is a good chance that the basic sugar ration will be reduced.

GROW VITAMIN A — When we stopped importing halibut livers from Japan we lost one of our most important sources of vitamin A, the vitamin that helps to protect us from colds. We're still getting some from other sources, but our reserves are dwindling. So plan to get as much as you can from your Victory garden; carrots, sweet potatoes and yellow turnips are all good sources.

BRIGHTER BRITAIN — This spring, for the first time since clothes rationing, sheer stockings are on sale in Britain. Bright colored coats and accessories are in the shops too, in contrast to the drab clothes English women felt they had to buy at the beginning of the war.
