

COURSES BY MAIL MADE AVAILABLE

Employees Urged To Take
Correspondence Courses;
See Personnel Dept.

Veterans and other employees of our companies who wish to enroll in correspondence courses are invited to come by the Personnel Department for full information on the subject. The proper forms are available there and veterans desiring assistance in choosing their courses of study and in making proper application are invited to come by.

Many correspondence schools are approved by the Veterans Administration and therefore are covered under the GI Bill of Rights. The schools offer a variety of courses, many of which will prove valuable and helpful in jobs in our plants. The courses are reasonable, ranging in price from $65 to $200. The GI Bill provides for payment of a $500 maximum for a correspondent course or courses.

A correspondence course is counted as one-fourth time on the veterans' eligibility time. For example, a veteran can study a course for a period of a year and a charge of three months is made against his entitlement. For two years of study, a six-months' charge is made.

All of us realize that colleges and universities have no monopoly on knowledge. The will to learn and to improve oneself can find more informal outlets. Libraries, educational lectures—and correspondence schools—each in their way can fulfill the desires of those who are eager to get ahead.

Nobody's Business By GEE MCGEE

GO 'WAY, BOOGY MAN

—It looks like I will soon be in a position to stop worrying. I am thinking of subscribing to one of those agencies that knows all, sees all, and can foretell the future for months and months, and will let me know when prices will break, and when she's coming around the mountain, when she comes, meaning—a depression.

—If those fellows say sell, I'll sell, that is—if I have anything to sell. If they tell me not to buy, I won't buy—because I have no money to buy with. If they suggest that I hedge, I'll go home and hedge both hedges, and thereby protect myself against everything bad.

—If they insist that I watch my inventory, I'll watch it, what little inventory I might be able to buy on credit. If they say—"watch Brazil, what affects Brazil will affect us," I'll get a map and keep my eye on Brazil. (Nuts).

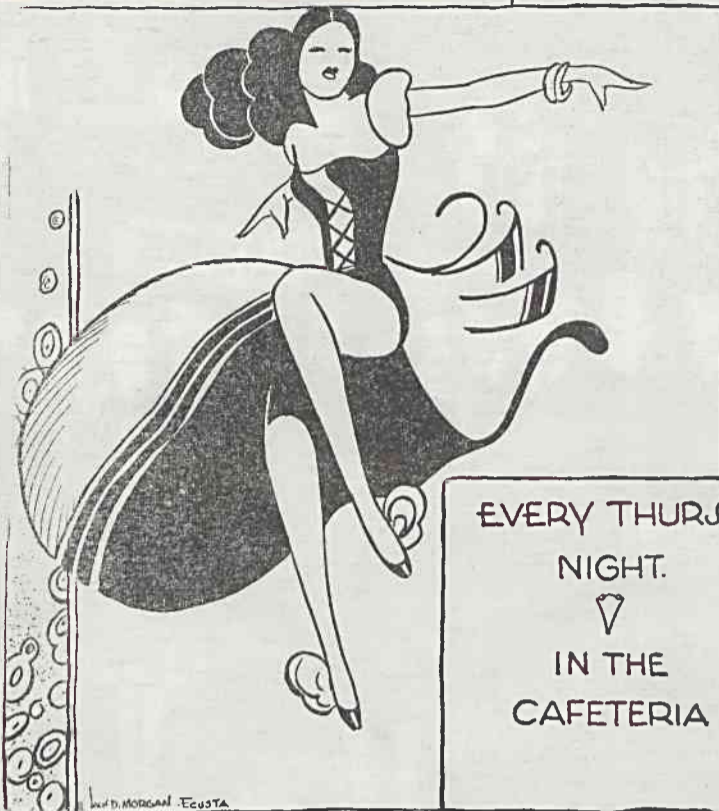

—Won't it be wonderful to know ahead of time what is going to happen? Depression, where is thy sting? No more financial headaches for me. Those boys are going to tell me for only $135.00 per year just exactly how to avoid financial pitfalls and all other kind of falls. I wish I was smart like they are.

NATURE'S JUMPS

Mother Nature is a remarkable woman but she still can't jump from summer to winter without a fall, or from winter to summer without a spring.

—Ray D. Everson, Farmer's Guide.

MOVIES

EVERY THURS?
NIGHT.
▽
IN THE CAFETERIA

MOVIE SCHEDULE FOR APRIL

- April 3—HOW GREEN WAS MY VALLEY
Walter Pidgeon, Maureen O'Hara
- April 10—IMMORTAL SERGEANT
Henry Fonda, Maureen O'Hara
- April 17—THREE ON THE TRAIL
William Boyd, Jimmy Ellison, "Gabby"
Hayes, Muriel Evans, Onslow Stevens
- April 24—TURN ABOUT
Adolphe Menjou, Carol Landis
MEET NORTH CAROLINA

Ecusta Entertainers And Band Busy, Canton Engagement Set For March 29

Will Entertain Junior Old-timer's Club; Future Appearances Booked

The Ecusta band and entertainers are in the midst of a busy spring schedule.

The stepped-up activity started on March 14 when the girls' sextet and John Eversman entertained the Western Carolinas section of the American Chemical Society in its monthly meeting held here. Three nights later, virtually the same program was enjoyed by the Western North Carolina Safety Council which also met in the cafeteria.

Saturday night, March 29, the entertainers have a big date at Canton where they will play and sing for the annual party of the Junior Oldtimer's club of Champion Paper and Fibre company. The event will be held at the Canton Armory and will get underway with a buffet supper at 6:30 p. m. The club is composed of employees of the company with more than 20 years continuous service. Incoming members, who will swell the membership of the group to well over 400, will be given the traditional bronze watch fob. Mr. Reuben Robertson, president of the Champion company, and Reuben Robertson, Jr., executive vice-president, will speak.

Several other spring and summer concerts have been tentatively booked by the entertainers and the

Pilot Plant News

By HARRY S. KOLMAN

We welcome Miss Betty Finck and Miss Kate Buchanan to the Pilot Plant office.

Bill Morris surprised us recently by announcing his marriage to Emma Virginia Hall of Savannah, Ga. The wedding took place at St. Philip's Episcopal church in Brevard, Saturday, March 1, 1947. We wish you both the best of luck and happiness.

Dot Singletary attended the Southern Conference basketball games at Durham, N. C. We wonder if it was necessary to go by the way of Wake Forest—or could it be the influence of David —?

Bill Long is still making his regular week end visits to Rutherfordton.

Roy Brown is planning to take his vacation in Florida soon—we envy you, Roy, but hope you have a good time.

Frank Ferrell is getting his paint brushes cleaned in readiness for his spring painting.

John Bumgarner is making progress on his new home, and hopes to have it completed soon.

band, including visits to nearby high schools, and definite announcement of these will be made later.

Unbiased Person: Person who has the same bias you have.

ROSMAN HI CLASS TOURS PLANT

Three In Group Of 19 Have Parents Employed In Plant Here

The vocational guidance class of Rosman high school, with its teacher, Mrs. R. E. Lawrence, visited the plant Wednesday afternoon, March 5 and was conducted on a tour of the mill. Nineteen seniors composed the party.

Three members of the group have parents connected with our companies. They are: Arnold Carter, son of Lawson C. Carter, Maintenance department; Vera Galloway, son of Willie Vance Galloway, Fibre Warehouse; and Helen Moss, daughter of William D. Moss of Champagne Machine Shop. Several boys and girls in the group have brothers, sisters and other relatives employed here.

Others in the delegation were Arvle Manly, Ethel Mae Clark, Hontense Burton, Edith Hall, Alene Chapman, Nell Jean Lusk, Betty Jean Whitmire, Geneva Powell, Avarie Fisher, Elizabeth McCull, Clyde Callahan, Ruby White, John Lee Whitmire, Paul Sisk, Kathleen Wilde, and J. C. Moore.

Bowling Experts To Be Here March 29

Bowling enthusiasts here are expected to turn out in full force Saturday night, March 29, at the Centennial Alleys to see Frank Kramer and William Wilensky of Savannah, Ga., bowl an exhibition match.

Both of these men have five year averages of 195 and are members of the 700 League of the American Bowling Congress. They are also expected to roll an exhibition match in Asheville Sunday, March 30.

The best competition available in Western North Carolina will be thrown against the visitors and an interesting match is forecast.

Bowlers In Prize Money At Savannah

Bruce Reynolds, Charlie Colwell and Water Straus captured prize money in the Southeastern Bowling Tournament held in Savannah the first week end in March.

Reynolds, teaming with Bill Bridges, rolled 1160 pins to place second in the doubles division. Straus had a 587 score to place first in the Class "B" singles and Colwell was second in the all events Class "B" with 160 pins.

ANSWERS TO QUIZ

1. Washington, Wyoming, Virginia, Wisconsin.
2. Frankfort.
3. New York.
4. William and Mary in 1750. The Flat Hat Club.
5. Maj. Pierre C. L'Enfant.
6. Secretary of State.
7. General under George Washington.
8. Mt. McKinley.
9. Jefferson City.
10. E Pluribus Unum.
11. New York.
12. Juneau.
13. Destruction by earthquake.
14. April.
15. Dance.

"We might all be successful if we followed the advice we give the other fellow."