

"Am I My Brothers' Keeper?" These Inspection Dept. Folks Are!

Marshal and Weldon Gillespie

Jack and Joe King

Lewis and James Redmon

Surratte and Wayne Nicholson

The Scruggs Foursome: Leon, Walter, Blanche, and Harry

It's pretty much of an everyday happening to have one or maybe two sets of brothers connected with the same company, but when you have four sets of brothers and three brothers and a sister employed in the same department on the same shift, that's news, indeed! That's the situation on "A" shift in the Inspection department.

The brothers shown upper left are Marshall and Weldon Gillespie, the former with us since August 6, 1946, while Weldon has been here since March 3, 1942. Next to them are Jack and Joe King, both of whom came with us in 1941, Joe on July 24, and Jack on August 12. The Redmon brothers, Lewis and James, are shown in the third column. Lewis' employment date was February 16, 1942 and James' was February 3, 1945. In the upper right column are Surratte and Wayne Nicholson. Wayne came here June 20, 1941 and Surratte came a short time later, September 24 of the same year.

But the Scruggs quartet even takes the "family affair" a little further, with four on the same shift in the same department. Left to right below are Leon, Walter, Blanche, and Harry. Leon is the oldest in the point of service with Ecusta, coming September 22, 1941. Blanche was next, October 14, 1942; Harry on August 3, 1946; and Walter, April 15, 1947.

From their pleasant expressions above, there's "peace in the family" and brotherly love is evident. Congratulations to a fine group of people!

Sorry Lillie's husband hasn't been feeling very well lately. Hope he soon will feel better and able to do his chores.

With the coming of spring the Pink Beds seem to be a popular place for picnicking. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mull, with daughter and friends, enjoyed a picnic there on April 14. Vernon and Evelyn Reese spent a pleasant day there with Helen Nicholson and her boy friend. They cooked a delicious supper on the outdoor furnace.

On April 27 Ruby Dunn and friends went fishing in the Tox-away section at Horse Pasture and reported a good catch. We wonder if Ruby could give Herbert Webb a few pointers on trout fishing. Recently he has been trying to decide what kind of pole and line to buy. A telescope rod was suggested; also a bamboo rod, but maybe it would be better for him to cut a pole until he learns how!

When James went fishing in South Carolina and came back empty-handed, he said the fish just wouldn't bite; but we found out the truth—James forgot to take any bait along.

Lucille Dockens was really excited when she left for St. Petersburg, Fla., on her vacation. We haven't heard from her, but knowing Lucille, we know she is having a good time.

Carolyn Garren gave a birthday party on May 2 for her sister, Cloe. About forty guests were present.

Several games were played and cokes, sandwiches, and lemonade were served as refreshments. It seems that Carolyn enjoyed the "sucker" and "animal" games as much, or more, than everyone.

Gladys Wilson and Lucille Cox recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox in Augusta, Ga.

We are glad that Harry Golderer's son, Harry, Jr., recovered nicely from a recently tonsil operation.

Buck Albert was certainly missed when he was out sick for a few days and we are glad that he is better and back on the job.
