

Harvest Festival Prizes

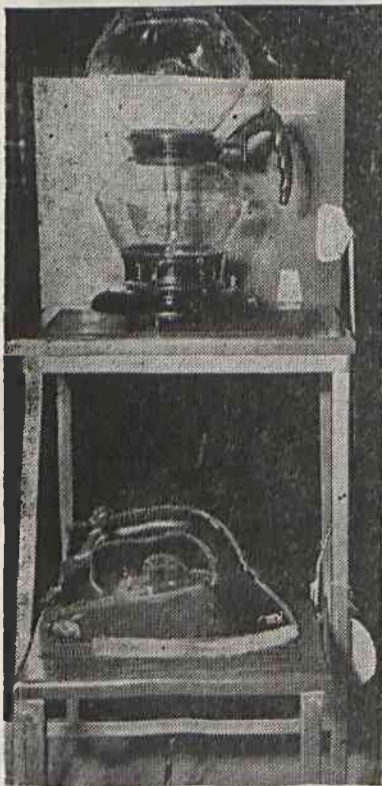

This is the cabinet style G-E Radio-Phonograph that will land in some lucky person's living room at the conclusion of the Harvest Festival. The record player plays up to 12 records.

Here are the Quantity prizes. On the left is the combination prize for second place—an electric clock and a Can-O-Mat can opener; center is the first prize—a Weavever pressure cooker; and on the right is the third prize—an electric clock.

The Dormeyer Food Mixer above will go to the sweepstakes winner in the Fresh Fruits and Vegetables division; the electric blanket is the sweepstakes prize for flowers; and the G-E table radio is the prize for the Canned Fruits and Vegetables.

These three valuable household articles await the contestants who have the best display. First prize is the G-E automatic coffeemaker; second prize is the G-E automatic iron; and third prize is the Step-Rite kitchen stool.

In addition to the prizes shown on this page, there will be cash prizes to those who excel in certain divisions. A blue ribbon (300 points) will bring $3.00; a red ribbon (200 points) will bring $2.00; and a white ribbon (100 points) will bring $1.00. These cash prizes will be awarded in all three divisions.

The Harvest Festival is the climax to the gardening season for Ecustans. This is the third year the popular event has been held.

ALL IN READINESS FOR SEPT. 5 SHOW IN THE CAFETERIA

Radio-Phonograph Combination Is Grand Sweepstakes Prize

A handsome G-E combination radio-phonograph awaits the best all-round gardener of our companies the night of September 5 in the Cafeteria. Other attractive prizes are included in the list of awards, but the combination set will go to the grand sweepstakes winner, and that's what everyone will be striving for.

Hon. W. Kerr Scott, commissioner of agriculture for the State of North Carolina, will give the main address of the evening, and Mr. Harry H. Straus will give the address of welcome.

Other attractions on the program will include a concert by the Ecusta band and the showing of colored moving pictures. F. S. Best will be in charge of the awarding of prizes.

The sweepstakes prize in the fresh fruits and vegetables division is a Dormeyer Food Mixer while the top prize in the canned fruits and vegetables division will be a G-E table radio. A G-E electric blanket will go to the winner of the flower division. Each first, second, and third place in each of the three divisions will be awarded $3.00, $2.00 and $1.00 respectively, the amount based on a blue ribbon (300 points), red ribbon (200 points), and white ribbon (100 points).

First prize for the best display will be a G-E automatic coffee maker; second prize, a G-E automatic iron; third prize, a Step-Rite kitchen stool. A Weavever pressure cooker is the first quantity prize; second, a Can-O-Mat can opener and electric clock; third, electric clock.

The rules and classifications which were printed in last month's Echo have been put in poster form and placed in various places around the plant for the convenience of those who plan to enter.

Visitors Compliment Camp Sapphire Setup

Jimmy Haynes, personnel director of the nationally known Cramerton Mills at Cramerton, and Mat Matlack, recreation director at the same mill, were visitors at Camp Sapphire during the month and were highly complimentary of the fine program being conducted there this summer.

Mr. Haynes and Mr. Matlack were particularly impressed with the lake, the picnic area, and the shuffleboard and tennis area. They also remarked about the splendid manner in which the camp was maintained.

"Daddy," began the little boy. "All right, one more question, but only one," sighed the tired father, "what is it?" "How far," inquired the tot, "is it between to and fro?"

"George, are you spitting in the fish bowl?" "No, mother, but I'm coming close."

Home—a place where a man is free to say anything he pleases, because no one will pay the slightest attention to him.
