

PAPER INDUSTRY MEN MAKE VISIT HERE OCTOBER 10

Superintendents And TAPPI Members Tour Plant During Fall Meeting

Delegates attending the annual joint Fall meeting in Asheville of the alkaline pulping and chemical products committees of the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry and the Southern and Southeastern Divisions of the American Pulp and Paper Mills Superintendents Association visited the plant Friday, October 10, and that evening were guests of Ecusta at a picnic dinner in the City Auditorium in Asheville. The meeting was jointly sponsored by Ecusta and Champion.

Several men from our companies were prominently connected with the meeting. Raymond F. Bennett is national president of the superintendents association and in this capacity had much to do with the success of the convention. Lee Bauer was elected first vice-chairman of the Southeastern Division of the Superintendent's Association, and was recently advanced to chairman upon the death of the new chairman. Dr. Ward Harrison was chairman of the arrangements committee for the meeting and naturally this job entailed much work and responsibility. Mr. Bauer and Mr. Bennett were also on this committee.

John D. Eversman was in charge of the entertainment for the Friday night session and spoke to the superintendent's association the following morning on "The Value of a Recreation Program in Industrial Relations."

At the closing session Saturday night, Mr. Harry H. Straus introduced Mr. Reuben B. Robertson, president of Champion, who was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Robertson, who is president of the American Paper and Pulp Association and one of the most prominent men in his industry, made an impressive address. Mr. Homer Latimer of Champion was toastmaster for the occasion.

The delegates who visited here came in chartered buses and were escorted through the plant in groups of ten. Previously that day a similar tour had been made through the Champion plant at Canton.

The following from our companies were registered at the meeting: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brennan, Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Bryant, George Cooper, Dr. and Mrs. Ward D. Harrison, J. E. Hunter, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clyde G. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Levy, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Matthews, T. E. Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. Al Ream, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bullock. Several others attended various sessions of the convention.

Mrs. Lee Bauer and Mrs. Harold Hansen of Canton had charge of the ladies convention program which included a number of parties and luncheons as well as trips to the Biltmore Estate and Biltmore Industries.

Mr. Harry H. Straus Honored By Chamber Of Commerce Group

Mr. Harry H. Straus has been made an honorary member of the chamber of commerce of the South, it has been announced by Hubert F. Lee, president of the organization.

In the announcement, Mr. Lee said Mr. Straus was selected for membership for his "inventive genius that made possible the production of cigarette paper from flax, and his notable achievements as an engineer, builder, philanthropist, panel member of the war labor board, director of public foundations, Chevalier of France, and the founding of Ecusta Paper Corporation."

Newbury, Alexander Speakers At Clubs

Hank Newbury, safety director, and Jack Alexander, Athletic director, spoke recently to civic clubs in this section.

Newbury addressed the Lions club of Hendersonville on Friday, October 24, discussing various aspects of safety. His talk was well received by the members of the club.

On Tuesday evening, October 28, Alexander conducted an informal discussion on football for the Brevard Junior Chamber of Commerce. His talk touched scouting, training, well-known formations, and many other interesting phases of the gridiron sport.

GRADUATES PICK VARIED CAREERS

Nine of 20 May Graduates Employed Here; Others Married, In College

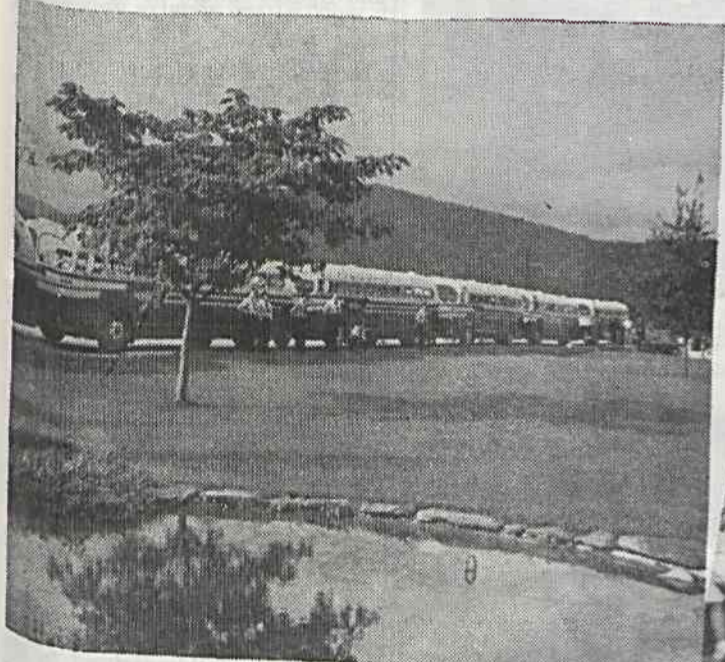

What course do graduates follow after they've said goodbye to high school? In a survey of the 20 cap and gown winners who appeared in these pages last May, The Echo found that nine of them have become one of us here while the others have gone to college, married, working locally, or in the army.

Those employed here now are Billy Charles, Machine Room; Grace Kilstrom Williams and Faye Gossett, Finishing; Fred McCall and Arnold Carter, cleaner crew; A. V. Matheson, Jr., Pulp Mill; and Mabel Galloway and Helen Moss, Endless Belt.

Choosing college were Nancy Jane Loftis, Wake Forest; Herman Seiber, University of North Carolina; Alfred Neumann, Davidson; and Charles Fuller, Brevard. Bill Ponder is taking a post-graduate course at Hendersonville high and Verne Galloway chose the army. Jaunita Albertson is employed in a local retail store and Carolyn Sentelle is at home.

Betty J. Reynolds Gaither and Jean Vassey Patton were married shortly before graduation and Grace Kilstrom Williams married this past summer. The former Miss Audrey Auvil is now Mrs. Guis Siniard.
