

Making The Rounds

Final Notes About The Big Holiday Season:

Have you taken down that Christmas tree yet? That's always a sad time for the children and it's a job that the adults postpone until the tree almost sheds itself bare . . .

Folks are still talking about the beautiful tree in the Chem Lab, decorated by Gladyce Teague. Incidentally, the attractively-decorated home of Gladyce's and Burder's on the East Boylston Road was the awarded first place in the contest held in Brevard during the holidays . . .

One of the most beautiful homes on that snowy Christmas Day was that of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Matthews . . . Fellars Party, little nephew of Bob and Dixie Whitaker had Santa Claus cornered at the children's party, quizzing the bewhiskered gent about his modes of transportation. "Already this year I've seen you in a jeep, driving your reindeer, in a car, and in an airplane. Now just how do you travel?"

A most appropriate gift: The miniature bowling alley and pins Jack Davies gave Pete Eberle at the Endless Belt party.

SYMPATHY . . . to R. C. "Slim" Bullock on the death of his mother and to John Drake, gate watchman, on the passing of his father.

A young Indian girl was asked by her high school teacher to write something about Socrates. She wrote:

"Socrates was a Greek philosopher who went about giving people good advice. They poisoned him."

Each time I pass a church

I always pay a visit;
So when at last I'm carried in,
The Lord won't say, "Who is it?"

HUMAN NATURE: Some persons will believe anything if it is whispered to them.

VITAL STATISTICS . . .

Each American used the telephone an average of 301 times last year, it is estimated by the companies. Through a little multiplication (140 million x 301), it is figured that there were 42 billion calls for last year . . . And in the same year, women spent $28 million for lipstick.

HONORS . . . to E. L. Happ who will lead the local Masons during the coming year and to H. P. Vannah who has been elected president of the Western Carolinas Division of the American Chemical Society.

ITEM OF CONVERSATION . . . The chickenpox epidemic which has hit many homes of Ecustans lately . . . Heating oil problems which have kept many households on edge, for fear the truck would not arrive before the final few drops were consumed . . . The trips to Cleveland for Bobby Loftis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Goode Loftis and Wayne Kerber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kerber. They attended the Youth Fellowship Conference of the Methodist church, along with 11,000 youths from all over America. Pete Shiflet also attended as a representative of the Brevard church . . . The auto inspection law and folks wondering if their cars will pass.

BOOK CORNER

BY

LUCILLE HEFFNER

First we, in the Library, wish to extend our heartiest wishes to all of you for a happy and prosperous New Year and hope to serve you in the coming year, your finest and most exciting year of reading!

Our first review is of a Louis Bromfield novel. The setting is in Siler City, Colorado, in the 1800's. Love, wealth, and adventure abound within! It is a western story, lacking none of the color and excitement so prevalent in pioneer days. Start the year by reading COLORADO, by Louis Bromfield.

Would you like to lighten a weary hour—have yourself a good time? Then ask for H. Allen Smith's newest laugh riot. No doubt you have read LOW MAN ON A TOTEM POLE, RHUBARB, and his other barrel-of-fun books. If not, you should! As we were saying—his newest is LO, THE FORMER EGYPTIAN. The town of Smith's youth, crammed with corn-belt characters, is vividly and outrageously described. For side-splitting laughter, and hours of real honest-to-goodness fun, chuckle with LO, THE FORMER EGYPTIAN.
