

FINISHING TOUCHES

BY Betty Ann Orr
and Mildred Allison

The weatherman has finally decided to give us a few sun shiny days. Ada Reynolds and Ollie Mae Sizemore are taking advantage of it by taking their vacations now.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bryson announce the birth of a baby daughter, Dorothy Ann, born Monday, March 1. She weighed 8 pounds at birth.

On the sick list this month we have: Josephine McCrary, Elizabeth Gossett, and Ronnie Orr. We wish each of you a speedy recovery.

Sorry to lose Jean McKinney and Richard Orr.

Glad to have Frances Smith back to work after recovering from a fractured knee. Frances, when you get ready to finish your painting, send us word and we'll do it for you.

Also glad to have Roanelle Steppe back to work. Hope your mother keeps improving, Roanelle.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Jesse Galloway in the death of her grandmother.

Nice to have Gladys Odell back after recovery of an operation.

We welcome Ruby Heaton and Ruby Mae Waldrop who were transferred from Endless Belt to our department. Hope you like your work, girls.

One way to be popular is to listen attentively to a lot of things you already know.

Easter baskets, bunnies, baby chicks, candy eggs, and egg hunts all go to make up a joyous Easter for the children. In the picture at the left below, three children of Alton Ashworth (Finishing) and the late Mrs. Ashworth reflect the thrills that Easter brings to the youngsters. James, 7, is at the extreme left while Robert, 5, is at the right. In the center is Shirley, the baby of the family at 19 months, and quite an attractive personality as you can see. Below, right, is Patricia Anne, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crockett Matthews (Power) fondling two of the many rabbits which neighbor Hugh Bradburn (Personnel office) is raising.
