ON THE COVER

Each year about this time baseball fever, a harmless spring malady which affects all ages, spreads over every village and hamlet of America. Our community is no exception. Rick Orr, outfielder on our Ecusta team, is representative of the many talented Ecusta baseball players. Rick's on the cover this month to portray this spirit that will hover over the sports world until cold weather and football crowds out the national pastime next fall. Our Ecusta team opened its season Saturday, April 17, and play will continue into early September.
