

"Doc" Simms, upper left, a steady employee of the Shipping department since October 28, 1941, is a veteran of World War II, having served in the Navy for three years. He numbers bowling among his hobbies and is on the Dodgers team.

Floyd Saunders, above right, is a machinist in Maintenance, and came to Ecusta on November 30, 1940. This means that he will round out eight years of service not many months from now. Floyd and his family reside at Etowah.

Gordon Hollingsworth, right, breaker beater operator in the Pulp Mill, observed his eighth "birthday" with Ecusta on January 6 of this year. He's a pleasant-mannered fellow and is one of the many Etowah residents employed here.
