

Betty Bresnahan Becomes Bride Of Carl Killian . . .

By Margaret Smith and Sara Loftis

Autobound-Machine Booklet News: Gladys Wilson spent last weekend with Charlotte and Walter Johnson in Hendersonville. They went fishing on Saturday and we've yet to find out exactly how many was caught.

Betty Bresnahan became the bride of Carl Killian on Saturday, June 5, in Greenville. They are making their home at Blantyre. We wish for them much happiness.

Eula and Richard Landreth moved from the Johnson Apt. to the home of Mrs. Crisp on Whitmire St.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mull announce the birth of a son, Guy, Jr., on May 25 at the Transylvania hospital. The little fellow weighed 8½ lbs. at birth and Guy spent his two weeks vacation trying to spoil him.

Maymie Reynolds spent her vacation the past two weeks at home resting.

Johnnie Dermid has been ill at her home in Brevard. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Sarah and James Avery and daughter, Sandy, spent a weeks vacation camping at Table Rock State Park in South Carolina.

Ruby Dunn has been fishing a lot of times lately at Horse Pasture River.

Lois Galloway and Louise Dishman visited their sister, Mrs. John Cameron, and new baby at Sharon, Pa. and also in Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Cameron was before her marriage, Marie Galloway of this department.

Carolyn Garren visited relatives in Waynesville recently and while there enjoyed a motorcycle ride to Bryson City.

Safe From Flood . . .

Mrs. Evelyn Taylor Smith, sister of Mitch and Ollie Taylor, and a former star athlete on Ecusta teams, writes from North Richland, Wash., that the floods that have recently brought about so much damage in the northwest did not hit the section in which she and her husband are now living. She expressed her thanks for receiving THE ECHO and asked us, through these columns, to give her best regards to her friends here.

Sign for your front yard if trespassers persist: "Please, I want to be a-lawn."

Richard Kuykendall Flies To Air Show . . .

By Andrew Harrell

Eave-Droplets From The Water Department: Comes June with all the blushing brides, summer vacations, fishing and all the other outdoor activities, until the cold drabness of a bitter winter is soon forgotten. It is good to feel so alive and free to enjoy Nature's abundant freedom of action and abundance of joy.

Get Richard Kuykendall to give you the low-down on the Miami, Fla. air show of June 5. He flew his own plane down to get a first-hand summary of the whole show including some of the night stunting on the beach. It's a lively town says Kirk but it's for those with lots of "moola."

In line with the thought of vacations, Fritz Waldrop and family are now enjoying a week of beach strolling and surf swimming this week. We envy even the thoughts of same.

Hunley Mehaffey wishes to ask that no more applications be filed for "Lone Ranger Club" membership. This is strictly an elite club and only a few are eligible. Next week Mac will sojourn to Florida to refresh memories of that ne'er-to-be-forgotten honeymoon. Watch that Florida moon, Mac, else you'll be marrying that wife of yours all over again.

If you want a glimpse of Craig Sharpe, be sure to attend any or all of the Ecusta ball club games. Craig is an ardent supporter of the team and if schedule permits will always be on hand come game time. Maybe we all are missing some mighty fine sport and recreation by not doing the same.

Jim Wingate says if it wasn't for radio and a pair of good hunting dogs, it just wouldn't be worth the struggle to keep on living. And, oh yes, don't forget the fishing season, too—any luck yet, Jim?

Fred Floyd narrowly escaped serious injury recently when he misunderstood his wife to say stand up instead of shut up. Just another skull practice session, but no football, eh, Kid?

This is still leap year, Jason Orr, so you'd better slow down else you'll find yourself all bridled and fully harnessed one of these days.

Guess everyone is looking forward to another great day at Camp Sapphire come July 4th. This issue of The Echo will bring more news of this event. A great day together with many interesting events. We all look forward again to this with much anticipation. See you there and then. Hope all are fully enjoying the daily activities now offered at Sapphire.
