

ANN HILL CHOSEN "MISS BREVARD"

Miss Ann Hill, attractive blonde who is employed in the Mill Office, was chosen "Miss Brevard" in the annual contest sponsored by the Brevard Junior Chamber of Commerce. The beauty pageant was held Saturday night, June 5, at the Brevard Country Club.

Miss Jean Hall of Finishing was among the final three in the judging. Miss Hill will represent Brevard in the state contest to be held at Wrightsville Beach. Last year, the Brevard entrant, Miss Carolyn Kimsey, placed high in the final judging.

Big Cities Lure Endless Belt Folks

By Mary Sue Thorne

LOOSE ENDS: Frances Orr and Lessie Beasle are getting back to normal after the time of their lives in New York . . . . Lucy Smith returned from an exciting ten-day trip to New Jersey and Atlantic City all fagged out. But she said they had a wonderful time . . . . Mildred Brooks and Carolyn Fisher say that vacation time is ideal for catching up with your sleep and odd jobs . . . . Violet Patterson comes back from a fishing trip with a bear story. While they were camping, a big fat woman went strawberry picking and met a big black bear. She fled in holy terror from the bear but found herself really between the devils when she stepped on a snake . . . . Sherrill Allison is just dwindling down to nothing on her diet . . . . Jack Davies insists that he's still having fun "batching" . . . . Edna Rackley entertained for Mildred Price with a linen shower at her home on Boyleston Road Saturday afternoon, June 26 . . . . Sherrill Allison, Edna Batson, Lucille Merrill, Flora and Ed Perkins are leaving for Myrtle Beach June 25 to spend their vacation. Others taking vacations this month are Willa Miller and Lela Baumgardner.

TRY THEM OUT

You can scent up a whole room inexpensively merely by putting a dab of perfume on an electric light bulb that's been heated.

If you hold a pin or needle in your mouth while peeling onions you won't shed tears.

* * *

The original manuscript of "The Star Spangled Banner" is now valued at $24,000.

* * *

The most concentrated form in which nature supplies foods is in seeds.

* * *

The first railroad in the United States was built in Quincy, Mass., in 1827, to haul granite for the Bunker Hill Monument.