

From the time the groups entered the gates, there was never a dull moment. Top photo shows Bob Anders' contingent looking over a paper machine. Center left, shows part of a group looking at one of the fascinating color printing processes in Champagne Printing. Center right, a group made up principally of youngsters, views the finishing processes. Bottom picture was taken in the Cafeteria while the folks were enjoying the delicious refreshments served at the conclusion of the tours.