

LOOKIN' THROUGH THE MILL WITH OUR DEPARTMENTS

INSPECTION NEWS By Kenneth McDaris

The boys in Inspection are looking forward to Thanksgiving for at least two reasons. The rabbit and bird hunting season opens that day and some are expecting turkey and pumpkin pie. As the Pilgrims did, we should give thanks for an abundant harvest. In thinking of this, I decided to "scout around" and see what the boys have in their freezer lockers. Wayne Nicholson has corn, strawberries, chicken, pork and beef in his locker. Doyle Wells has corn (on-the-cob and off) lima beans, green beans, okra, strawberries, peaches and poultry. His vegetables were grown on an Ecusta garden plot. D. L. Thorne and Earl Garren have filled their lockers with beef. Weldon Gillespie has a half a hog and 21 fryers in his locker. Ned Medford has strawberries, raspberries, cherries, chicken, beef and pork. Ulysses Summey has corn, strawberries, veal, chicken and pork. Ralph and Raleigh Waldrop have their lockers partially filled with vegetables and chickens. They are saving some space for beef. Most of these fruits, vegetables and meats were grown on their own farms or gardens.

Most of those taking vacations this month will hunt. These include Doyle Wells, Ned Medford, Ralph Waldrop, J. T. Hollis, Randall Lankford, Claude Glazener, Raleigh Waldrop, Edith Summey, Blanche Jones, D. L. and Juanita Thorne, Ben Bishop, Naomi Waldrop, Mary Sue Jennings, Russell Mason, Hershel Galloway, Ralph Brown, Roy Head, Jack Hogsed and William Bly Rogers. Oscar Lothery and D. L. Thorne are getting ready to hunt in a big way. Oscar has a new shotgun and D. L. has a new 'coon and 'possum dog. Frank Justus went deer hunting on Geoshea Island near Charleston, S. C. This 6,000 acre island owned by Jack Maybank, brother of the Senator, is well stocked with deer, 'coon, wild turkeys, pheasants and wild hogs. Frank's party got one deer. He said they enjoyed excellent food, cooked southern style, by an old colored mammy. We have a long list of squirrel and 'coon hunters including Jim Sheppard, Vick Sigmon, 'Jiggs' Price, Paul Ledbetter, Cecil Camp, Bill Dunn, Edgar Meece, Clifford McCall, Lynn Pressley, Monroe McCall, Robert Jenings and Clarence Glover.

Juanita Thorne's shift surprised her on her birthday with a paper cake. The 'cake' was filled with candy.

Mrs. Bob Matthews is home from the hospital and improving rapidly. Mrs. Ray Hooper is recovering from a slight operation on her foot Rufus O'Dell is back at work following a tonsillectomy. We extend our sympathy to Craig Snipes in the loss of his grandmother, Mrs. Jane Hendricks.

Wayne Nicholson has bought a new home on Haywood road in Hendersonville. Floyd Hensley is fencing his farm. Ray Byrd built a coal and wood shed on his five days off.

Bob Matthews, Ray Hooper and Millard Teague recently enjoyed a trip through the American Enka plant at Enka.

PULP MILL NEWS

Shorty Davis boasts of owning a hog that will weigh around 550 pounds, and he is waiting for colder weather so he can take the load off the poor hog's feet. Say, that's a mass of pork!

Joe Blythe spent most of his vacation coon hunting and he found what he was after, for Joe rounded up four large coons. Paul Sitton, Elmer Baker and Wade Scroggs are planning on taking part in the Government Deer and Bear hunt this month.

Otto Whitesides saw the Clemson Tigers football team roll over the Furman team Saturday, November 6th. Robert Foster and Ralph Morris attended the American Legion Convention in Miami, Florida last month. Ina Mae Lyday attended the Tennessee-Carolina Football game and reported having a swell time. R. C. Bullock attended the Southern and Southeastern Division of the American Pulp and Paper Mill Superinten-
