HAVE YOU CORRECTED YOUR WITHHOLDING EXEMPTIONS?

It is important to you, to the company and to your Government that you keep an up-to-date Withholding Exemption Certificate (Form W-4) on file with the company. This certificate tells how many exemptions you claim and directly affects the amount of income tax withheld from your wages.

If the number of exemptions has changed since you last filed a certificate, get a new form from the Personnel Department, fill it out, and leave it with this department. It is especially important toward the end of the year that you make sure that you have an up-to-date Withholding Exemption Certificate on file for use at the beginning of the new year.

Usually, your exemptions change when you get married or divorced, when a dependent is born or dies, or when you begin or stop supporting a dependent. You may claim an additional exemption if you or your wife will become 65 years of age during the year; also, an additional exemption is allowed if you or your wife becomes blind.

Under the law a penalty of $500 and a year's imprisonment may be imposed for claiming an exemption to which you are not entitled.

For forms and further information, contact the Personnel Department or the nearest office of the Collector of Internal Revenue.
