

PRINTING DEPARTMENT

By Julius Tinsley

Just recently loud speakers have been installed in our department which help to make ours a more enjoyable place to work, especially last week as those of us on day shift were able to enjoy the World Series games.

We expect to be losing at least two fellows from our department to the Cellophane plant. We wish for Bill Ball and Ed Conley a very successful future in the new plant.

With hunting season coming on, most of the fellows have saved a week's vacation for that purpose. Ed Conley says he has a new Coon dog ordered and expects to spend a week's vacation "trying him out" when he gets here.

Howard Hutchins spent a week's vacation recently putting the "finishing touches" on his new house and yard. Also he and family spent a day at the Cherokee Indian Fair.

Julius Tinsley and family enjoyed a day at the Cherokee Indian Fair.

Troy Drake enjoyed a chicken supper at the Country Club on Tuesday evening, October 10th, given by the Ecusta Baseball Players.

Fritz Hachnel recently spent a week in Chicago representing the Printing Department at the Chicago Trade Fair.

To begin our news for this month, we are very happy to say that our shift was 100% for the Crusade for Freedom. Many of us attended the very impressive program given on the lawn at the Cafeteria Friday, October 6.

Curtis Pittillo had the misfortune of cutting his thumb off and injuring some more of his fingers while working graveyard. We all miss him and hope he will be back soon.

Randall Lankford attended the Carolina-Georgia football game at Athens, Georgia, on October 7th.

We were sorry to lose Estelle Tinsley and Argyle Gash. Estelle moved to Rock Hill, South Carolina, to join her husband who is employed there. Argyle is going to keep house.

Judson Plott attended the Indian Fair at Cherokee recently and reports a very nice time.

Among those taking vacations recently were J. B. Rogers, Joyce Danielson, Birdell Garren, Mary Parris, Ella Parris, Lola Shook, Willoree Wilson, Lucille Laughter, Elmer Kilstrom and Alvin McCrary.

We are glad to have J. E. Waters working with us now.

Several of the men on our shift have signed up to go to the Cellophane plant. We don't know yet just who will go.

Glennard Corn and family enjoyed a trip through the Smokies recently.

Lewis McCrary is back with us after being out several weeks with an injured hand.

Mary Kilpatrick's daughter, Virginia, was home recently. She is teaching music in Winston-Salem.

Alta spent her vacation in Kansas visiting her parents who are both very ill. We hope they will soon be well again.

Jim Orr has a new television set and his wife says she doesn't like it because she can't get any work out of him. He's afraid he'll miss something.
