Right: An employee's family leaves the Cafeteria after receiving Christmas stockings given them by the Company. The children found the stockings to contain candies, nuts, fruit, popcorn, and toys.

Left: "Aw-w Santa, you can't kid me! There isn't a bird in that camera. There is a bird of some kind behind it tho'!"
