GEORGE SEXTON WINS HENDERSONVILLE GOLF TOURNAMENT

Friday the thirteenth proved to be a lucky day for George Sexton of Cellophane Maintenance. On June 13, George, who lives in Hendersonville, won the first annual Hendersonville Country Club Men's Invitation Golf Tournament by defeating N. C. W. Gennett of Asheville 8 and 7 in the 36-hole championship finals.

Classes will be set up according to age groups with competitive games arranged between boys of the same ages. The fundamentals of many sports will be taught and special emphasis will be placed on swimming and water safety.

Each boy attending the school is urged to wear, or bring, a pair of swimming trunks, a "T", or play shirt, a pair of tennis shoes and towel.

ARCHERY INSTRUCTIONS OFFERED AT CAMP STRAUS STATE CONTEST TO BE HELD THERE, JULY 19 AND 20

Archery is having its usual summer revival under the direction of O. K. Smathers. Each Wednesday afternoon at 5 P. M. all children, both experts and novices, are invited to shoot or learn at Camp Straus. O. K. Smathers, Bill Bangs, and Harry Ballard will be on hand to give expert advice. On Thursday afternoons at 5 P. M. all adults with itchy fingers and the desire to flex a bow are welcomed at the same location for practice or advice.

Of further interest to all bowmen is the North Carolina State Archery Tournament to be held at Camp Straus on July 19 and 20, with some 75 to 100 archers entered in the contest. This tournament is held every year under the auspices of a local archery club affiliated with the National Archery Association, and this year is sponsored by the Sylvan Valley Archers, a newly organized group of Transylvania enthusiasts. Anyone who is a member of the organization may enter this tournament, and anyone in the county who is interested in archery is cordially invited to join the club and participate in the contest.
