

Though different in position and duties, they have something in common.
They are

Women In White

Pictured on these pages are a representative few of some of our Ecusta women employees who, though employed in different departments, are "related" in that they all are uniformed in white. Left: Mary Rice Robinson (Analytical Laboratory) extracts an ether-soluble material from raw fibre with reflux distillation apparatus. Lower left: Running "quick-viscosities" on samples of paper pulp in Analytical Lab., is Lucy Clark. Below: Leola Hall (Analytical Laboratory) determines nitrogen content of a compound by distillation process.
