

The Echo

Vol. 14. July 1952 No. 7

PUBLISHED AND PRINTED
MONTHLY BY AND FOR EM-PLOYEES OF ECUSTA PAPER
CORPORATION AND ENDLESS
BELT CORPORATION AT
PISGAH FOREST
NORTH CAROLINA

Charlie Russell, Editor
Alex Kizer, Jr., Assistant Editor
Jack D. Morgan, Art Editor
Fritz Merrell, Sports Editor
H. E. Newbury, Safety Reporter
F. B. Ayers, Safety Reporter

ON THE COVER

One little man who had a busy day at the 4th of July Picnic was James Eric Lanning, one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Linton J. Lanning. James' father is employed in Cellophane Maintenance Department, and his mother was formerly employed in the Paper Finishing Department.

INSIDE FRONT COVER

An unidentified diver gives the Camp Straus high-diving board a tryout. Swimming as might be expected, has proven to be one of the camp's most popular summertime features. Seven days a week, employees and their families can be seen putting to good use the many recreational facilities offered at Camp Straus.

