

GUMMING REPSE REAMING

By Grady Wilkie

Activities are at a minimum in our department since some of us have been helping out in various other departments. Leroy McCall and Babe Norton had a two-weeks' workout in the printing department. Thurman Rogers and Donald McCall had a two weeks tour in Finishing.

Howard Page recently suffered a broken leg. We hope he will be back with us soon.

Chris Rogers, Nellie Justus and Robert Lyday are on the list for vacations for the month of December.

Thus we come to the close of the year 1952. A year we will always remember as the year of elections, conventions, etc. The year the Yankees beat the Dodgers, the year the Republicans beat the Democrats and the year Chris Rogers beat new trails into Pisgah Forest and, as yet, hasn't scored in the deer hunts.

With Thanksgiving over and Christmas once again here, here's hoping the visit from Santa Claus will please all of you and that the year 1953 will be a prosperous one.

When you complain that your young wife spends more than you do for clothes, probably you're right. Statistics show that dressing costs young matrons 10 to 20 per cent more than it costs husbands. But all you have to do is wait 30 or 40 years. The same statistics show that when a couple reaches 60, the average husband gets to spend as much for clothes as his wife does, and perhaps more!

Above are Charles L., age 9, and Keitha Faye, 14, the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester M. Cox of Penrose. Charles is in the fourth grade at Penrose and Keitha Fay is a sophomore at Brevard High School. Their father is employed in the Finishing Department (Paper Division).

BOOK CORNER

By Lucille Heffner

SANTA CLAUS is coming to town—and has already visited Ecusta's Library! Was he generous with good gifts? The very finest—worlds of imagination and entertainment. Lend an ear, while we tell of our visit from St. Nick.

First, we have two copies of THE BIRD'S CHRISTMAS CAROL, many times read and enjoyed by thousands. Have you read it to your children? Kate Douglas Wiggin wrote this beautiful story.

For reading of the season we have THE OTHER WISE MAN, Henry Van Dyke; CHRISTMAS IN DICKENS, Charles Dickens; Clement C. Moore's poem, A VISIT FROM ST. NICK; THE LITTLE MATCH GIRL, Hans Christian Andersen, THE CHRISTMAS WHALE, Roger Duvoisin; THE DRUM GOES DEAD, Bessie Streeter Aldrich, THE FIRST CHRISTMAS, Florida R. Glover, and WHILE THE ANGELS SING, Gladys H. Carroll.

Christmas belongs to everyone and in THE FIRESIDE BOOK OF CHRISTMAS STORIES, we find stories and legends reminding us what Christmas means to us and how people of many lands have celebrated it. The first part is devoted to the birth and infancy of the Christ child, with these famous writers contributing: Henry Van Dyke, Elizabeth Hart and Frances Hodgson Burnett. Selections by Dickens, Walter de la Mare, Daphne du Maurier, Christopher Morley and Louisa Mae Alcott complete this volume that makes entertaining and inspirational reading for the holidays.

Four new and outstanding volumes were recently added to our Ecusta Library. We have a "waiting list" on each but assure you that they are worth waiting for.

The are:

QUEEN'S GIFT, Inglis Fletcher

STEAMBOAT GOTHIC, Francis Parkinson Keyes

COMANCHEROS, Paul Wellman

SHAPE OF SUNDAY, Lloyd C. Douglas.

A good example is the best sermon. Unless we live up to what we say, we cannot have a lasting influence on those who look to us for guidance. The world needs less advice and more worthy examples.

Sincerity always carries the most weight in our relationship to others. There is something compelling and genuine which radiates from a sincere person. The principal obstacles to influencing others are insincerity and inconsistency.
