

"D" SHIFT CASTING

By William Haynie

First of all, the shift wants to express its appreciation for the swell turkey dinner the Company gave on Thanksgiving Day. It was delicious.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Snyder on the arrival of an 8 lb. 5 oz. baby boy, named Ronald Jessie.

We want to take time out here and congratulate Charles Morgan for capturing a convict who escaped from a working gang Wednesday, November 19. Nice work, Charles.

Looks like deer season is on its way out, and from all the talk going on everybody has made a kill. Why, just the other day someone said they had seen more deer killed in the Casting area than in the forest.

Speaking of hunting, Ed Conley and J. T. Reid spent a couple of days at Standing Indian. Didn't have any luck. But they report seeing a few doe.

Rupert Gordon reported that he missed a buck on opening day.

Don Graves spent three days on the Mississippi River duck hunting on his five days off. Don, that duck sure was good. Ha!

Tom Brown sure is enjoying his new television set. He reports it's nice to sit around the house and see what is going on in California.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. David Garren on the arrival of a daughter, Donna Faye. She arrived November 26, at 9:45 P. M.

Troy Williams has some advice to give to all rabbit hunters. It seems that Troy and his brother-in-law were going rabbit hunting Thanksgiving day. Troy was working graveyard so Wednesday night before coming in to work he put his two beagle hounds in the trunk of his car. This was to make sure he didn't forget them the next morning. Troy tells me that Sams Motor Co. has a rewiring job to do on his car. It seems that the dogs weren't satisfied with chewing up all the upholstery, but chewed all the wires loose from his back up lights, tail lights and stop lights. Troy wants to know if anyone has a good dog crate for sale. If so, please contact him.

Deer hunting in the Pisgah Forest was very good this year. Of the three men from A shift Coating that went after their deer, two were successful. Monroe McCall killed a nice spike buck that dressed out close to one hundred lbs. Yours truly was the luckiest hunter of them all, checking at the checking station at 6:40 a. m., and back at seven fifteen with an eight point buck that weighed one hundred and fifty lbs. Some of the boys from Coating and Casting have been kidding me about having the deer tied up the night before the hunt. David Sams was the only unlucky hunter, but David put in three days of hard hunting. He said the only ones he saw didn't have horns.

That's about all the news for this month. See you next month.

"B" SHIFT COATING

By Henry Bell and Jim Silver

Another month has rolled around and caught us short on news again, but here goes anyway.

We hope everyone had a very nice Thanksgiving.

Out of this crowd L. V. Neil seems to have had the best luck of anyone. He went rabbit hunting and said he never shot so much in his life. He shot 15 times and killed 15 rabbits. That's really some shooting. If anyone wants any rabbit stew, maybe L. V. will invite you over for a mess.

Henry is back on his feet again! His car is in dry dock for repairs. It seems he's taking the lime-light from me on auto repairs. Anyone would think we were running a race. Trouble is, I think I'm winning. Mine stays in the garage more than his.

There will open soon in Brevard another used car lot run by local boys. The name: B. M. & S. M. — (Bell, McCrary & Silver, McCrary) used cars "A Dollar Down and A Dollar when we catch you" is the slogan. (And we have long legs.)

Lee McCrary had a nice Thanksgiving with his mother in East Flat Rock.

Jim Dalton carved the turkey at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. I. E. Blythe and all had a nice day.

Marv Reid gobbled the gobbler at his home in Rosman, N. C.

Preston McCrary chewed the chick at home with his family at Horse Shoe, N. C.

Henry Bell and family bit the bird with Henry's folks out on the Biltmore Estate, and then Henry hitch-hiked home. He ate so much he couldn't walk.

D. S. Winchester sliced ole Tom Turkey with his brother, Glenn, who lives in Greenville, S. C.

Bud Pettit gave thanks at home with his family and enjoyed a quiet evening watching T.V.

Troy Bryan has been awfully quiet here lately, so we couldn't find out just where he ate dinner.

Yours Truly had a "sore" throat and had to "Sup" soup, but I was thankful I could do even that and do it in a free country.
