

Gabby Hayes Says: "Do Me A Favor!"

I wuz settin' 'round the ranch here t'other day kinda by myself. Most of the hands had gone to town, when one of my favorite buckaroos from over the next ranch dropped in to say hello to ole Gabby.

I wuz just 'bout fixin' to spin him a yarn when he looked up over my shoulder and says, "Say, Gabby, what's all them there pitchers doin' here?" "Oh," I says, "them, shucks. I

"Ya know, there's a mighty important story in them pitchers. It's a story 'bout Savin's Bonds that folks all over the hull United States and Texas should study mighty careful like. It can mean a lot to 'em in a lot of ways. Look here what I mean, ya see this here Savin's Bond.

"It's the kind you can get by payin' for all at once, or ya can get one by buyin' savin's stamps a little mite at a time. 'Course, growed up folks like yer ma and pa that's workin' can get them on that there Payroll Savin's Plan. So you all do Gabby a favor and get to thinkin' how you can get your first Savin's Bond just as soon as ya can. An' tell yer pa to save more money on that Payroll Savin's Plan!"
