We're all proud of Jewel Wilson. She rolled 199 in a bowling game recently.

Business has picked up so Agnes H., Mary Lou Mc., Evelyn R., and yours truly are now back at their regular jobs. Nice to be back, isn't it!

Janette R., is in the hospital and we certainly wish her a speedy recovery. Janette we miss you and hope to see you back with us soon.

Carolyn, Charlotte, Jewel, Sarah, Silver, Penny and Flossie have found that Bowling is lots of fun. Just drop in at the Bowling Center most any night and you'll find them bowling the "pounds" away.

We sure miss Clara B. But know she's happily "saddled" as a housewife. Maybe some night she will invite all of us up for supper!

Phil, do you and Mull like chocolate fudge? John L. and John S. told Vernon R. that fudge was their favorite candy.

Worry is merely putting today's sun behind tomorrow's cloud.

Martin Turbyfill (Job Printing) tells the following about his four year old son, Ernest: It seems that little Ernest had taken a vital interest in the kidnapping of little Bobby Greenlease and had been following all the newscasts on television during the days when everyone waited anxiously for word of the child. After one of the newscasts, little Earnest came into the kitchen and asked his mother for a pint jar and a pin. "What in the world for?" she asked. "Don't you know you're not allowed to play with pins and you might break the jar and cut yourself?" Ernest replied solemnly that he wanted to prick his finger to get some blood to put in the pint jar. Then he would go out and stop the postman and send it to "poor little Bobby". Martin said too that his son also mentioned Bobby Greenlease in his prayers.
