

MACHINE BOOKLET AND AUTO BOUND

By Joyce Emory

Welcome 1954. May your days bring each of us health and happiness. Good bye 1953, your days left memories we shall treasure forever.

Many New Year's resolutions have been made and perhaps broken, but here are a few that have been reported:

Mary Galloway resolves to quit slipping money out of Clyde's trousers when he's on grave yard.

Sarah Loftis resolves to learn to bowl and roll a score higher than T.

Silver Mann wants to bowl a game of 300. (It'll probably turn out to be a set of 300.)

Mae Whitmire wishes to remain a young (prematurely gray) grandmother.

Gladys Cassell resolves to do more and better work by staying off the telephone.

Sammie Hensley will endeavor to remain the same as she was last year.

Agnes Hileman wants to eat more during '54 than she did during '53.

Alma Owens resolves not to have any more birthdays now that she is 21

Lillian King is going to try to always mate her shoes in pairs.

The foregoing resolutions were made probably all in vain, but I'll pass them on for their benefit.

We welcome Janette Riddle back to work and hope that her health keeps improving.

OFFICE BITS

Happy New Year to everybody at Ecusta: It is our hope that the coming year will prove one filled with happiness, good health and contentment. We further hope that it might bring to fruition some of your pet goals and hopes. We believe that 1954 will be a good year for all, not only here at Ecusta but the country over!

Jack Pepper and family hied themselves off to the warm Southwest for a vacation. They visited in and around San Antonio, Texas. What we want to see is Jack wearing a five gallon hat and boots and spurs!

Aida White moved into her new home Christmas week. What a wonderful Christmas present and vacation combined!

Hugh Bradburn vacationed during the month of December, spending much of his time hunting.

George Heyman is the newly elected Vice-President of the Hendersonville Public Speaking Class. He is ready to make a speech on anything from lower taxes to the love life of a grasshopper!

Mildred Scott vacationed Tampa, Florida way. She was there basking in the sun while we shivered in the cold winds!

Sonia Colwell chose New York City for her vacation spot. Plenty of excitement up there during the Holidays. Did you have any snow?

Carl Stephens vacationed in Brevard during the holiday season.

Danny (Mrs Thomas) New and family vacationed in New Jersey during the holidays. We hope that you had a fine trip and good weather!

Earl Bryant vacationed Mars Hill way late in December. How is the farm coming along?

Kathleen Ricker was another to enjoy a holiday season vacation. We were unable to learn where she vacationed but we feel certain that Kathleen had a wonderful vacation.

Ruth Feaster took the second week of her vacation and visited in Chapel Hill, N. C.

J. D. Finch vacationed in Miami and Miami Beach in December. The story goes that J. D. tried some deep sea fishing but, not being a seafaring man, he did not enjoy the up and down swell of the waves!

Again my thanks to Marie Eggert and Virginia Stepp for their help in getting up office bits during the year!

Above is 7 year old Tony White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl White of West Asheville. Carl is employed in the Coating Department (Film Division) and Aida is in the Main Office.
