

Film Division Employees

Attend National Safety Congress

Winners in the safety contest receive congratulations from Production Manager E. L. Lynn and Plant Manager R. F. Bennett. Shown, left to right: Mr. Lynn, Mr. Bennett, John E. Thomas, Fred M. McCall, Jr., and John H. Jackson.

Four employees of the Film Division attended the National Safety Congress in Chicago, Illinois this month, according to W. L. Hensley, Chairman of the central safety committee. Fred M. McCall, Jr., of the Casting Department, and John H. Jackson of the Power and Water Department attended as winners in the 1954 safety contest.

John E. Thomas of the Casting Department, the supervisor whose personnel had the highest average number of points in the contest, and F. B. Ayers, Safety Supervisor of the Film Division, accompanied the winners on the trip.

The safety contest started on April 12 of this year. Winners were determined on the basis of number of injuries in each department, results of a safety quiz, wearing safety equipment, and original slogans and suggestions submitted. Fred McCall compiled a total of 243 points to lead the long list of contestants.

Following is a list of 25 top contestants in the contest in order of total points:

Fred M. McCall, Jr., John H. Jackson, Edward Warren, Nathan E. Reed, Jesse L. Ashe, James P. Silver, Thomas L. Hooper, Gordon M. Hollingsworth, Ray M. Winchester, Harry L. Jones, William F. Murray, James B. Shook, Ivan V. Gallo-way, J. T. Reid, Richard C. Rutherford, Herbert H. Hall, Walter G. Hooper, James Dalton, Ernest R. Maney, Thomas D. Brown, Richard A. Landreth, R. Paul Ledbetter, Robert T. Eason, Arthur J. Kinsey, and C. J. Bradley.