The District 26 champion UNCA Lady Bulldogs are on their way to Cedar Rapids, Iowa for the NAIA National Championship playoffs.

They earned the trip by whipping District 19 champion Spring Garden, Pa. 87-59 in the Bi-District playoff game in Justice Gym on March 6.

Despite UNCA's 28-point winning margin -- the contest wasn't a blow out.

The Lady Bobcats

jumped out to an early 10-3 lead with 14 minutes to go in the first half behind the inside-outside punch of Kathy Killian and Dawn Sanders, and cold shooting by UNCA.

But the Lady Bulldogs began to find the range.

UNCA center Sheila Ford tossed in six points as the Lady Bulldogs outscored Spring Garden 8-0 in the next two-and-a-half minutes to take an 11-10 lead.

The Lady Bobcats

weren't ready to give up. Killian and Sanders each scored to give Spring Garden a 14-11 lead with 11 minutes to go in the half.

After Ford converted a three-point play to tie the game at 14, Kim Duncan gave the Lady Bulldogs the lead for good when she took a pass from Trish Wyatt in for a layup with about nine minutes to go in the half.

UNCA pulled away from the Lady Bobcats behind guards Wyatt and

Few filing for Student Government positions

Cagle unopposed in bid for re-election

By Anne Snuffer

So far only one student has filed, and one is planning to file on Friday for the elected positions of president and vice president of UNCA's Student Government Association.

According to Mike Hagarty, elections commissioner, a nomination form for the position of president came in from incumbent Ken Cagle.

Doug Miller plans to file for the position of vice president on Friday, pending passage of the SGA's new constitution.

Cagle announced his decision to run again March 5.

He said he would "like to challenge anyone" to run against him.

He added that there was no one running against him because "students at UNCA don't have the backbone to stand for what they believe in. They don't take the initiative to go for things."

He went on to say "there is a problem of getting people to run for office because they (the positions) take up a lot of time."

Passage of the revised constitution would enable Miller to meet

Constitution faces vote

By Anne Snuffer

UNCA students have the opportunity March 15 and 16 to vote out the student government's outdated, 10-year-old constitution by voting to accept a newly revised version.

In this referendum, students will determine the passage or failure of the new constitution, which the Student Government Association has been laboring over for many months.

Ken Cagle, president of the SGA, said "under the old constitution there were lots of loopholes and outdated information."

He added that the new constitution would give students more responsibilities in the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of student government.

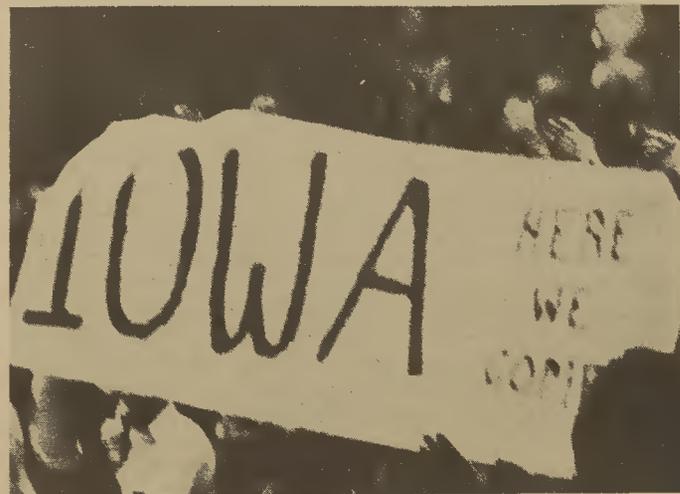

Cagle went on to say that the old constitution dates back to May 1973.

He said there was a need to update the constitution to keep pace with changes occurring at UNCA.

Students are encouraged to pick up a copy of the new constitution at the SGA offices in the Student Center.

Voting will take place in front of the Student Center and in front of the library from 11 a.m. until 2 March 15 and 16.
