

Photo
corner

Time in the garden

Kelli Riles - Staff Photographer

The ancient garden was founded in 2006 by members of the classics department. Right, the garden is meant to honor the ancient Greek and Roman gods.

Students in the classics department celebrated their annual Classics Week March 21-25.

The local Eta Tau chapter of Eta Sigma Phi hosted the event with the Classical Society, an organization open to both classics students and students at large.

The Ancient Garden party, co-sponsored by the Ancient Gardens / Archaeology club, started as an LSIC course taught by professor Dvorsky-Rohner in 2006.

Kelli Riles - Staff Photographer

Secretary of the Ancient Garden Club Johnathan Young and President Jamie Lux attended the Ancient Garden Party, hosted by their club.

Local Events

Today

Lecture by Eric Goldberg
Disney animator
6:30 p.m.
Lipinsky Auditorium

Open mic
Hosted by SAIL
8 p.m.
HU Grotto

Thursday

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus:
Gold Edition
In town until Sunday
7 p.m.
Asheville Civic Center

Friday

Art Walk
5 p.m.
Various galleries
in downtown Asheville

Saturday

Battle of the Bands
2 p.m.
UNC Asheville's quad

A Concert of World Music and Dance
7 p.m.
Warren Wilson
Presbyterian Church

Sunday

"The Shadow Box"
A play performed by the Autumn Players
2:30 p.m.
Manheimer Room
in the Reuter Center

For more campus events go to www.unca.edu/calendar