

Brevard and Biltmore in Scoreless Tie

Biltmore makes most first downs but gains less ground

Brevard Makes only Threat at Goal

Last Saturday Brevard was unable to overcome the Biltmore College eleven. For the most part the game was a kicking duel between "Bad" Jim Wright, of Biltmore, and Davis and Clayton, of Brevard, with honors about even at the finish.

THE STATISTICS

	Filt.	Brevard
First downs	3	1
Gains from scrimmage	58	86
Losses from scrimmage	28	84
Passes attempted	8	2
Passes completed	5	0
Gains on passes	35	0
Passes intercepted by	1	1
Fumbles	7	3
Own fumbles recov. by	4	1
Penalties (total dist.)	5	20
Number of punts	12	12
Av. distance of punts	35	36

The only real scoring threat of the struggle was made by the Tornado when Biltmore lost the ball by a fumble on the Biltmore 11-yard line just as the first period closed.

Brevard failed to gain in two line tries, and Davis' pass was intercepted by Brank, Biltmore fullback, on his own five-yard stripe. He carried it to his own 14 from where a punt sent his team out of danger.

Brevard Gains Most

While Biltmore chalked up three first downs to one for Brevard, the latter eleven gained the most ground from scrimmage and at times appeared the better team by a good margin. But when a yard or two meant a first down the fast charging Bulldog line prevented an advance.

The final two periods resulted in a nip-and-tuck battle in or near mid-field, with neither team able to make much headway into opposing territory.

THE LINE-UP

Brevard	Pos	Biltmore
Edwards	LE	Herman
Lance	LT	John Wright
Lail	LG	Jewel
Henry	C	Spaulding
Odom	RG	Simpson
Ashworth	RT	Drake
Gaston	RE	Blackwell
Fradly	QB	McJunkin
Andrews	LH	Jim Wright
Higgins	RH	Ponder
Davis	FB	Brank

Subs: Biltmore. Herron and Towe; Brevard, Harmon, Clayton, Samuel, Brooks, Gray, and Thomson. Officials, Wise (Purdue) referee; Leeper (Duke) umpire; Frei (Battle Creek) headlinesman; Chakales (Rollins) field judge.

Ashworth and Lail Star

Ashworth and Lail were outstanding as was Lance until being removed from the game with an injury that will prevent his playing this season. The entire line played good defensive ball. Blocking on offence showed promise, but the lack of experience and practice kept effective yardage down.

The Backs of the Tornado worked hard but were unable to gain consistently enough to score. Several Backs show promise of becoming ground gainers in future games. Gaston, calling his first game from the end position, did well. He has many of the necessary qualifications of a good quarterback.

Brevard was supported by a lively band of students who yelled with might for a victory. The team played hard and served notice to opponents that they expect to fight and win.
