

THE CLARION

Volume XV

BREVARD COLLEGE, OCTOBER 15, 1948

Number 2

NEW ELECTRIC ORGAN IS DEDICATED HERE

Coltrane, Swink Attend Annual Kiwanis Meet

At the annual convention of the Carolinas District of the Kiwanis International, held in Asheville last Sunday through Tuesday, Dr. E. J. Coltrane, president of the college and District Governor of the Carolinas, delivered one of the three main speeches to some six hundred delegates representing over ninety clubs in North and South Carolina.

Accompanying Dr. Coltrane to the meeting was Mr. Ray F. Swink, director of religion at the college, who represented the Brevard club of the Kiwanis.

Claude Hellmann, of Baltimore, Md., an international trustee of the Kiwanis, spoke at the fellowship luncheon Monday, and Dr. Davis, pastor of the Temple Baptist church of Memphis, Tenn., delivered an address to the group Sunday. Both men put emphasis on religion.

Each speaker attacked Communism as a menace to the American way of life and upheld the first objective of the Kiwanis International, which is "To give primacy to the human and spiritual, rather than to the material values of life."

Spurgeon Boyce, of Durham, was elected at the convention to succeed Dr. Coltrane as District Governor of the Carolinas and will take office on January 1 of next year.

ASTC Team Honored With Dance In Gym

On Saturday night, October 9, after the football game between the A. S. T. C. "B" team and the Brevard Tornados, a dance was given in the Brevard gym honoring the A. S. T. C. boys. After such a well-played game, which ended in a 13-13 deadlock, some entertainment was certainly due, stated Frank Roberts, president of the Bailar Club.

Music was furnished during the evening by Bob Davis and his dance band. The vocalists for the affair were Lois Stratton and Jack Prince. Those among the vocal group were Charlie Freeman, Frank Roberts, and "Bam Bam" Martin. A few of the many selections chosen were "Intermission Riff," "One O'clock Jump," and "Now is the Hour."

The dance proved very successful with approximately two hundred attending. In the crowd were many former students of the school and citizens of Brevard.

Tennis Courts Near Completion

The two double tennis courts now under construction beside the veterans units are near completion and only the factor of labor is holding up the work, according to Charley Freeman, who is in charge of the project.

Construction was begun last spring and so far the framework for the backstops, the leveling,

—Turn To Page Four

New Members Of Brevard Faculty

Phys. Ed. Teacher

MISS ADD LEA MORGAN, above, heads the women's physical education department at Brevard college this year. She is an alumnae of Brevard and received her A. B. at Greensboro college and her M. A. at Peabody teachers college. Prior to coming here this year, Miss Morgan taught physical education at Perkinson Junior college, Perkinson, Miss.

Asst. Dietitian

MISS SUE TISDALE, above, formerly of Old Fort, is now a member of the Brevard college staff as assistant dietitian. A graduate of Appalachian State Teachers college, she received her B. S. degree in home economics and science.

Missionary Speaks In Chapel Services

Dr. M. B. Stokes, for thirty-three years a missionary to Korea, and seven years missionary in Isla Pinos, Cuba, spoke to the Brevard student body last Monday and Tuesday during chapel services and also at vespers. Dr. Stokes, a former Methodist minister,

—Turn To Page Three

New Dietitian

MISS JOSEPHINE LINN, above, formerly of Salisbury, has accepted the position of dietitian at Brevard college. She has served in this capacity in several hospitals and during World War II served in the Army as hospital dietitian. A native of Salisbury, she received her B. S. degree in home economics at Catawba college.

Teaches Music

MISS CAROLINE GATES, above, joins the music department at Brevard college this year as instructor in piano and organ. She will also direct the choir of the First Baptist church here. A graduate of Greensboro college, she received her bachelor's degree in music education.

Girls' Societies Hold Initiations

Thursday of this week was quite a day for the old members of the Euterpeans and the Mnemosyneans, the two girls' literary societies on the campus. On that day the clubs started their annual initiations for new members, and according to Tудie Crawford, president of the

—Turn To Page Three

Ceremonies Held Tuesday Night In Dunham Hall Here

Dedication ceremonies for the new concert model Hammond electric organ recently given to the college were held last Tuesday evening at 8:00 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The organ was given to the college by H. A. Dunham, of Asheville and an unknown friend this fall, and was installed in the auditorium of Dunham Hall prior to the opening of the fall semester.

Mrs. Louise P. Miller was dedication organist and presented a musical program which included "Festival Prelude on Ein Feste Burg," William Faulkes; "Bible Poems," Jaromir Weinberger; "Abide With Us and Lord Jesus Walking on the Sea;" and "Grand Toccata," Theodore Dubois.

The dedication prayer was given by Rev. Wilbur G. McFarland, pastor of the Brevard Methodist church. Rev. B. W. Thomason, pastor of the First Baptist church delivered the invocation, and Rev. Walter P. Baldwin, pastor of the Presbyterian church, delivered the benediction.

"In the days when Brevard college is expanding to such heights of prominence, we must never forget that our growth is due in a greater part to the work of men like H. A. Dunham," Dr. Coltrane said. In the past few years, Mr. Dunham has given to Brevard college property valued at approximately a quarter of a million dollars. A portrait of him was unveiled last winter in the administration building, Dunham Hall.

"Upon completion of the new Fine Arts and Music building, for which plans are now being drafted, the Hammond organ will be moved to a permanent place, befitting to its donators," the president said.

Band, Majorettes Make Hit At Game

The Brevard college band very ably performed for the first time this year last Saturday night during the Brevard-ASTC "B" game played on the high school field. Before the game, the band led a parade of students from the college through town to the field. The game was opened by the band playing the National Anthem. At intervals during the game everyone was pepped up by the several spirited songs that were played.

Jim Wofford, drum major, did a very capable job of leading the band. Adding much in attractiveness and spirit were the two majorettes, Pauline Mallard and Elaine Orr.

As a climax the band marched on the field during the half. As they marched up the field they played "Music in the Air" and then stopped before the Brevard stands and played "The American Patrol." Marching off the field the band gave a rendition of "Hand Me Down My Walking Cane."

"As the band added much to the color and spirit of the game, we know everyone will be looking forward to their next performance," Frank Roberts stated.