

Delphian Society To Sponsor Annual Valentine's Party

On Saturday, February 12, the Delphian Literary Society will sponsor their second annual Valentine's Dance, to be held in the college gymnasium from 8 to 12 p. m.

An announcement has been made by the club that the gym will be arranged night club style and that the theme of the dance will be "I Love You Truly."

A King and Queen of Hearts will be selected and presented with a prize during the dance. Contestants will be nominated during the week before the dance at a cost of fifty cents per nomination and voting will be on a "penny a vote" basis.

Bob Davis and his dance band will furnish the music for the occasion and a noted magician will be on hand to perform during intermission.

Lacy McCormick, president of the Delphians, stated that an evening of enjoyment is assured everyone who attends.

Admission prices will be $1.25 for couples and stag men, and 50 cents for stag girls.

Eliminate the Boo . . .

11. Team A has ball and shoots for goal but misses as horn sounds for end of first quarter. Who gets ball at beginning of second quarter?

12. Jump ball between A-1 and B-1 in front court. A-1 taps ball to A-2 who dribbles ball back across 10 send line. What should be done?

13. When ball is handed to player inside free-throw circle, does he have to attempt the throw?

ANSWERS: (1) 2; 2 none; (3) A; (4) B ball out of bounds; (5) A; (6) yes, unless special ruling has been made before start of game; (7) yes; (8) no; (9) nothing, it is legal; (10) yes; (11) neither team, it is a jump ball; (12) nothing; (13) yes.

I would suggest that every student body be given this test. They may be told, semi-facetiously, that if they answer a dozen of the questions correctly, they will be given a license to boo any official who makes a mistake.

If they miss more than three questions, they must promise never to stand up and comment on poor officiating.

And if they miss five or six, they will be charged with studying the rule before attending their next game and then slip in and sit very quietly—because the questions represent only 13 out of the 500 situations that might arise during the course of a game.

Grammatical

An army captain who was long on experience but short on formal education was having difficulties with several college graduates in his company. They persisted in correcting his grammar, particularly his occasional use of a dangling preposition. Finally, this notice appeared on the bulletin board over the captain's signature:

"There is a certain spirit of insubordination in this company up with which I will not put."

Dirty Dog

Campbell: I had a terrible dream last night. I dreamed I was dead and what do you suppose woke me up?

Lyman: The heat, no doubt.

Local College Band Having Successful Season

Shown above is Bob Davis and his Brevard college orchestra which is now engaged in its most successful season. The boys played beside Bobby Knauff and his famed band, at the Charlotte Carolina club dance at the Hotel Charlotte December 28th, and for the Elks Club dance in Shelby New Year's Eve. Prior to Christmas, they played for dances and parties in the Gastonia-Charlotte section. Director Davis states that he plans to take his band to the University of North Carolina next year following graduation at Brevard in June. Members of the group are, left to right, front row: Jack Prince, vocalist, Kings Mountain; Lois Stratton, vocalist, Reidsville; Dana Harris, Jr., Shelby; Jim Wofford, Greensboro; Bill Duckworth, Brevard; Bob Davis, director, Gastonia; second row: Thurmond Rogers, Brevard; Carl Guin, Gastonia; Robert Norwood, Brevard; J. C. Grose, Statesville; Tommy Day, Gastonia; third row: Eddie Miller, Alexandria, Va.; Hugh Griffith, Monroe; Wayburn Houck, Todd.

Intramural Cage League Gets Off To Fast Start

Barracks "J" and "K" Lead Loop With Two Wins Each In Recent Meetings

The men's intramural basketball league, consisting of teams from the six men's dormitories, the married vets' units, and the town boys, got off to a fast start during the week before examinations with the boys from "J" and "K" winning their first two contests and holding the lead.

Barrack "K," with Fred Elkins hitting the net for 25 points, polished off dorm "G," last year's tournament winner, in the first game. Dorm "J" defeated barrack "H" in a hard fought battle by the score of 39-38.

Unit "D" beat the boys from unit "F" while the town team defeated the married vets in the other contest. This rounded out the first week of play.

Last week, Unit "J" and dorm to take the lead while "H" and "K" won their respective games "G" triumphed over their opponents to go into a four-way tie with unit "D" and the town team.

Unit "F" and the Married Vets have failed to cop a game thus far and remain in the cellar with two losses each.

The schedule for the remaining games follows:

Feb. 3-4—D vs. 9, MV vs. H, F vs. T, and J vs. K.

Feb. 10-11—MV vs. D, T vs. G, K vs. H, and J vs. F.

Feb. 17-18—T vs. D, MV vs. K, J vs. G, and F vs. H.

Feb. 24-25—D vs. K, T vs. J, F vs. MV, and H vs. G.

Mar. 3-4—D vs. J, F vs. K, H vs. T, and G vs. MV.

Following the regular season play, the eight teams will engage in a double elimination tournament to decide the campus championship.

If you think the words "night" and "evening" have the same meaning, note the different effect they have on a gown!

WPA Job

Reporter: (Looking into the depths of Grand Canyon) Do you know that it took millions of years for this great abyss to be carved out?

Man: Well, well! I never knew this was a government job.

"THIS IS WHAT I LIKE—GOOD FOOD, GOOD WINE, GOOD COMPANY, AND BAD THOUGHTS."
