

The Clarion

Published By The
STUDENTS OF BREVARD COLLEGE
Brevard, North Carolina

Editor-in-Chief Frances Bess Swaringen
Feature Editors Evelyn Eller, Betty Lawrence,
Frank Roberts, Doreen Pearson, Bill Mewborn
Sports Editor J. B. Thurmond
Sports Staff Ray Cain, Alston Wilkes
Reporters Clara Jean Parrish, Margaret Ann DeBord,
Norma King, Mary Alice Allen, Eleanor Orr,
Lib Latham, Mary Jo Brown
Business Manager Robert Henderson
Business Staff Betty Jo Parrish,
Dot Dellinger, Martha Bishop
Proofreader Betsy Dean
Faculty Adviser Miss Mildred Gray

Right From The Beginning

Yes, sir, right from the beginning we're gonna start griping and offering suggestions in the hopes that maybe things will change for the better before this crop of sophomores leaves. Suggestions—we've got hundreds of 'em. Just you read on a little farther, and you'll see what we mean.

But wait, you new students would think this a terrible paper if our first editorial didn't welcome you as bona fide members of Brevard college. We are glad to have all of you, and we sincerely hope that you enjoy your stay here. Brevard has something to offer you, and you can make your contributions to her in return. We're not preaching to you, but do try to make a student of yourself that this college will be proud to claim.

We presume that all college students can read, so how about taking notice of the "No smoking" sign in the chow hall, you fag fiends.

One thing we're going to gripe about till we get it is an established and printed set of rules regarding the women students. As the situation now stands, the teachers can hatch up new rules on the spur of the moment. This is neither fair nor just, so we would like to suggest that somebody get busy on a set of rules 'n' regulations, and let's have students on that committee, too, please.

Naturally the gripe about food is uppermost in our minds (and stomachs, too), but there's one thing we should always remember—it's much different cooking for 400 students than cooking for a family, so if the food doesn't taste like Mom's, just grin and bear it. There's a suggestion box conveniently placed just inside the chow hall door, and the cafeteria staff appreciates all the suggestions you drop in. If you have a gripe about the food, remember where you should put it, and make all your suggested improvements in a nice way.

Come on then, fellow students, let's start the new year out right. Show the teachers that you're gonna back 'em up, and you'll find that they're always willing, even more than glad, to help you in any way they can. We're not making that statement just because all other colleges say it; we're saying it 'cause it's the plain and outright truth.

Just A Reminder

When you curse or swear:

1. It shows that your vocabulary is limited.
 2. It suggests that you keep company with the crowd that is coarse and vulgar.
 3. It shows up your weakness of character.
 4. It shocks and disgusts decent people.
 5. It dishonors your parents, your children, your friends, your home, your business and your God.
 6. It shows that you don't know how to talk.
- Nuff said?

WHO'S WHO

BOB MOORE

Is there anybody on campus who hasn't met our student body president? Just in case you haven't had the chance, meander over toward West after the evening meal and two bits says you'll find him there. Now you know of whom we're speaking—sure, and it's none other than that tall blond from Statesville, Bob Moore (Robert Lawrence Moore, ing people; could be that's why everybody likes him so well. If Bob just for the records). Bob has a way of winning friends and influence sticks to his election platform, and we have every reason to believe that he will, "There'll be some changes made."

DAN STOWE

"D. P.," our vice president hails to us from Belmont, and in high standing, too. Just because he's a "J" boy is no sign that he's the typical "tavern" lodger. Seriously, Dan Presley Stowe is one of our most promising ministerial students. He may be small in physical stature, but we believe in the old adage that it's quality, not quantity, that counts. All you freshmen, and sophs, too, for that matter, have no doubt from time to time been the recipient of his cheery greeting. Let's all keep our eyes on "D. P.," who knows, someday he may be back at Brevard preaching the commencement sermon to a graduating class.

JOYCE WILHELM

Statesville seems to be doing her share of supplying Brevard with officers this year 'cause that's the city Joyce Dolores Wilhelm calls "home," too. Joyce's likeable smile and friendly personality seem to penetrate through Brevard's cloudiest weather. For those of you who don't know her, just look around Taylor for a girl who seems to be the highlight of the fun. The student council should make much progress with such a capable person to keep its records.

GLADYS BREWER

Gladys is Ansonville's contribution to the student council at Brevard. She has a big job ahead of her as president of the Christian Student Movement, and a position like that calls for the cooperation of every student. All those of us who eat in the chow hall know Gladys, for she's always smiling as she helps in serving the food. Smiles help the digestion, Gladys, so keep the good work up. Students interested in dramatics will get a better chance to know her, for that field is one of her first loves.

BETTE COOK

You've all seen or heard Bette's infectious laugh, or you haven't been very observant. Last year she was known as the "laughingest girl on the campus," and this year will be no exception, from all appearances. Bette Lou (we just couldn't leave out that middle name, could we, Mo?) Cook, one of Concord's contributions to B. C., has already made many new friends this year, and she is going to need your cooperation in putting out the 1950 Pertelote. Bette says she's gonna make this year's annual Brevard's best, and we all wish her luck, don't we, guys and gals?

Brevard College Trustees Held Meeting In Winston-Salem Thursday

Board Members Are Listed; Alumni Meeting Is Held On Wednesday

The semi-annual meeting of the trustees of Brevard college was held Thursday afternoon at 4 p. m. at the Centenary Methodist church in Winston-Salem with Edwin L. Jones, chairman of the board, presiding.

In conjunction with the board meeting, a Brevard college alumni dinner was held on Wednesday evening at 5:30 p. m. at the Ardmore Methodist church in Winston-Salem. Some 200 people attended the dinner and speakers included Rev. C. M. Pickens, Charlotte; and Rev. W. A. Kale, Shelby, in addition to the college president.

Edwin L. Jones, of Charlotte, is chairman of the board of trustees of Brevard college and other trustees are:

S. E. Varner, Mrs. J. H. Picklesimer and F. S. Best, all of Brevard; R. T. Amos, High Point; Dr. E. H. Blackard, Gastonia; Judge William H. Bobbitt, Charlotte; Rev. C. P. Bowles, Statesville; H. A. Dunham, Asheville; Ralph Edwards, Morganton; Paul F. Evans,

Lexington; George D. Finch, of Thomasville.

Rev. Paul Hardin, Jr., High Point; Rev. Cecil C. Hefner, Kannapolis; George F. Ivey, Hickory; Rev. James B. McLarty, Marion; Col. W. B. Moore, Wadesboro; C. E. Morgan, Asheville; Dr. E. H. Nease, Charlotte; C. M. Ogle, Hendersonville; G. B. Pendleton, Charlotte; Dr. C. M. Pickens, Charlotte; Jean W. Schenck, Shelby.

Flake Sherrill, Statesville; Allen H. Sims, Gastonia; Rev. H. C. Sprinkle, Mocksville; Rev. Lee F. Tuttle, Asheville; Judge Guy Weaver, Asheville; Rev. Howard Wilkinson, Asheville; O. V. Woosley, Winston-Salem; Joel Wright, Asheville; Holt McPherson, Shelby; Rev. W. A. Kale, Shelby; Dr. H. C. Sprinkle, Jr., New York, N. Y.; Richard Johnson, North Wilkesboro; Jonathan Woody, Waynesville.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

Parsons Jewelry

Watches — Gifts
Watch Repairing

VARNER'S
DRUG STORE

GAITHER'S
GRILL

The Best In Food