

The Clarion

Published By The
STUDENTS OF BREVARD COLLEGE
Brevard, North Carolina

Editor-in-Chief ----- Frances Bess Swaringen
Feature Editors ----- Evelyn Eller, Betty Lawrence,
Frank Roberts, Doreen Pearson, Manuel Holland
Sports Editor ----- J. B. Thurmond
Sports Staff ----- Alston Wilkes, Jerry Crawford
Reporters ----- Margaret Ann DeBord,
Norma King, Eleanor Orr, Lib Latham,
Dale Brown.
Business Manager ----- Robert Henderson
Assistant Business Manager ----- Ray Cain
Business Staff ----- Betty Jo Parrish,
Dot Dellinger, Martha Bishop
Circulation Manager ----- Clara Jean Parrish
Circulation Staff ----- Mary Alice Allen, Mary Jo Brown
Proofreader ----- Betsy Dean
Faculty Adviser ----- Miss Mildred Gray

COUPLE OF THE MONTH

By CLARION STAFF

Beginning with this issue we are going to carry one of our favorite columns, and this is it. Dale Brown and "Speedy" Cranford have been chosen as our first distinctive couple.

It's always interesting to know how our couples get bitten by that bug, so here's a little dope on their history. Sometime during last October, Dale and "Speedy" were in a group of students coming back to the college from the MYF meeting at the Methodist church. The crowd decided to make fudge after reaching the dormitory, and Dale says that she and "Speedy" just fell in together. They must have liked the fudge; we've noticed that they've made it several times since then. Their first date was on October 31, the day after Homecoming last year. They celebrated their first anniversary of going together during this year's Homecoming events, just a few short weeks ago.

On the campus, both our lovers are quite popular. Dale is president of the West Hall house council and a member of the Dramatics club, Euterpeans and Sigma Pi Alpha. To balance his side of the two-some, "Speedy" is president of the Delphians, a member of the Dramatics club, one of our best cheerleaders, and an avid ping-pong addict. Incidentally, he's a mighty fine player.

Here's wishing Dale and "Speedy" the best of everything and happiness always. Now for the trip up town to see their sponsors.

SPONSORS . . . The merchants of Brevard have many things in store for our couple and will do their best to provide them with an enjoyable week. Smith and Gray barber shop will greet the male with a wool clipping and a shoe shine, and the girl will receive a manicure through the courtesy of Edith York at the Modern Beauty Shop. Varner's Drug Store will serve the couple with a pair of their notorious sundaes. Austin's Studio will take a photo of the lovebirds and present each with a copy that they can moon over after the ten o'clock bell on Saturday and Sunday nights. Pete Bikas, that connoisseur of fine foods, up at Galloway's Cafe, will honor the romancers with a special dinner, the kind we've all dreamed of since school began. Mr. Tankersley down at Sylvan Valley Florist is going to present the girl with a beautiful corsage for the Thanksgiving hop. Managers Carter and Shiflet of the Co-Ed Theatre are going to treat the two to one of their good movies. Popcorn and cokes will be provided by Ford's Corner, which is conveniently located next to the theatre. We know the lovers will have the time of their lives, and appreciation is extended to the above merchants who have made it possible.

Throw Out The Life Line

The calm, peaceful quiet that surrounded the men's dormitories was cruelly broken by a splashing sound accompanied by the gasping cry for help that came from the mud-clotted lips of a Brevard college student as he swam back from the cafeteria to Dormitory G. The books that he had on top of his head hampered his progress, and he began to sink. Fortunately, an occupant of Dormitory G saw him and threw a life line to him made from his radio aerial. What if no one had seen this industrious student as he floundered helplessly in the dark abyss of mud and water that surrounded the dormitory? Suppose no one had been there to throw out the life line? Who would have been guilty of this tragic catastrophe?

Perhaps this is an exaggeration of the conditions that occupants of the men's dormitories have to brave in wet weather, but it is a fact that something should be done to improve the conditions. Such conditions can be improved and it is for this reason that resentment of them is justified. The mud and water are not only hard on shoes, conducive to sickness, and contributive to ill-appearance; but they are unnecessary and they should not be forced upon the students here at the college. We want our feet on solid ground.

Cafeteria Efficiency

It seems that somehow or other the subject of food and the cafeteria enters into our conversations about three times daily. From here it looks as if the students have learned not to make such a fuss over the food. Now they are glad to get it, even after waiting until the cafeteria crew gets ready to serve us. Can't they begin serving on time, and can the cooks prepare just a little more meat so that the people at the end of those monstrous, long lines won't starve to death?

We're going to start calling names in public if certain boys don't stop smoking during meals. That repulsive smoke doesn't help the food a little bit, and it certainly makes people think less and less of the offenders.

Let's all cooperate in trying to make the cafeteria staff a little more efficient. What do you say, folks?

THE ART OF CRITICISM

Boys flying kites haul in their strings like white-winged birds,

But you cannot do that when you are flying words.

Careful with fire is good advice we know—

Careful with words is ten times doubly so.

WILL CARLTON.

Tornadoes Primed

(Continued From Page One)

week end, and most of the players went home to rest up for the annual Thanksgiving classic.

Co-Captains Bruce Jamerson and Jack McCauley will lead the Tornadoes, and other boys who will see plenty of action include Jim White and Clyde Pitts, tackles; Nick Nichols, Harold McDuffie and Fred Elkins, wingbacks; James Barker, guard; Ebby Wilkinson and Chester Baker, quarterbacks; Bill Barton, end; and Jim McDaniel, center.

TROLLEY SODA SHOP

J. FRED TAYLOR, Owner
Across From the College

Pine Whispers

Clarence Blythe, could you please tell us what a girl means when she puts chewing gum in a letter—especially when it's Dentyne?

The Sadie Hawkins dance marked a huge triumph for many of the hopeful gals. Poor Bam Bam put up a strong fight, but he just couldn't run fast enough.

Charles Barkley can't seem to make up his mind which girl he wants. Is it Dot, Martha or Pat?

We still haven't recovered from our amazement at seeing Max and Bruce in Taylor Hall living room.

We hear that Eloise had a good time at home last week end. Could it have been because her man from State was home, too?

Mary Frances says her week end in Charlotte was some kind of fine. Wonder if Raymond stopped off in Gastonia to say "Hello" to his mother?

Maria seems happy since she got a certain letter from a certain someone.

Eleanor tells us that the Duke campus is beautiful, the Duke-Wake Forest game was a disappointment, and Lando Beal is as fine as ever.

We wonder what Natalie finds in Lake Junaluska on the week ends that she doesn't find in Brevard?

Betsy Dean, you looked mighty gay at the dance Saturday night. That's the way we like you.

Bettylou and Frank certainly make a cute couple. More power to you, kids.

Jean and Howard really go for two-hand bridge in a big way. Does it never get monotonous?

We believe that Jane T. likes those Charlotte boys . . . Maybe Dopey?

Joyce Wilhelm and Joe Davis are seeing quite a lot of each other these days. Nice going.

Barbara, are you and Bruce getting up a case? That looks mighty like a Bennettsville high school ring you're wearing.

Barbara Hall says she doesn't hear much from West Point these days. She doesn't seem to let it get her down, though, as long as Jerry's around.

Kearn's Grocery

Open Sundays
And Evenings

LONG'S

DRUG STORE

PARSON'S JEWELRY

Come in as soon as possible to place orders for rings

PORTRAITS
Photo Greeting Cards
MUSIC
Austin's Studio

Plummer's
BREVARD, N. C.