

WHO'S WHO

BY HELEN HAYES

Introducing Pat Brown, representing the Mnemosynean society, as the first of the four society presidents. Pat hails from Asheville and is a graduate of Woodfin high school. Everyone knows that she is a voice major, and that she is planning to transfer to Juilliard—but the fact that she is one of those ping-pong fiends may come as news. The Mnemosyneans are planning some big things this year; and you can start looking forward to the Farewell dance, because Pat says that it will be extra special.

Marty Gibbs is just as enthusiastic over the plans that the Euterpeans have for the Sadie Hawkins Day dance. Marty, another native of Asheville, graduated from Lee H. Edwards high school. After completing a general course here, she plans to enter nurse's training in Charlotte. Any spare time that she may have she gives to knitting or to helping someone else with her argyles.

From argyles to horses—and

Students At

(Continued from page Three)

chaperone. However, hiking ensembles may be found in all sizes varieties.

WHAT DO THEY DO?

Now, what would one do on a hike? Hike, of course! But simply exercising the feet and drinking in the "scenery" does not nourish the hungry wolves. Usually some type of refreshment is planned. Be it hamburgers, weiners, marshmallows, or sack lunches, the feed is welcomed by all who kick leaves during the afternoon stroll.

WHEN DO THEY GO?

Ah, yes, when do they go, 'tis fondly asked. Certainly not during an English mid-semester! No, indeed. The accepted hour for hiking is an a. m. or p. m. Sunday—and oft-times, Saturday. Last year, for instance, the Christian Fellowship club sponsored a hike Easter Sunday morning. The members of the club rose early Easter morning and hiked three hours out and back, in time for breakfast and church. Sounds like fun, doesn't it!

Well, there's more to hiking than there's space to say; however, 'tis generally agreed to be great fun. Then again for you not-so-enthusiastic hikers there's always a trip to Ross Hall to roast marshmallows — and it has been done!!

TROLLEY SODA SHOP

J. FRED TAYLOR, Owner
Across From College

when one mentions horses Joe Jack Wells is sure to appear because next to the Cliosophic society, they are his main interest. Joe Jack comes to us from Waynesville, where he graduated from Bethel high school. He is majoring in forestry and will transfer to State college. He is also a member of the annual staff. The Cliosophics are destined to have a busy year with the fixing up of ping pong tables, the dance coming up on the 25th, and the Valentine dance.

Clinton Tutterow isn't going to let the Delphians lag behind in big plans. They are planning a big formal dance with an out-of-town orchestra. He is from Charlotte and went to Thomasboro high school. Besides being president of the Delphians, Clinton is president of the Dramatics club and on the business staff of the Clarion. He may be a social science major, but he also gets very enthusiastic over anything pertaining to music.

WPNF Uses Local

(Continued From Page One)

on the Dixie FM network every Saturday night at 7:15 p. m.

Hoyle says that he has been fiddling ever since he could walk. Although he has never had a music lesson and plays songs by ear, his talent has won him appearances with Horace Heidt's CBS Youth Opportunity program and with CBS' Gene Autry.

Bobby plans to retain his music as a hobby; he is mainly interested in becoming a radio announcer. Currently he is learning to operate the control board at WPNF and he has already presented some newscasts.

Mary Alice Hollifield, known on the Brevard college campus for her work as secretary of the student council, is a regular accompanist for the Children's Talent hour which is presented every Saturday at 11:00 a. m. by Mrs. Emma Sue Bosse. In addition to her duties as accompanist, Mary Alice has performed on the program as a guest star. This summer, Mary Alice, who has been taking piano lessons for nine years, performed

WELCOME VISITORS

EUTERPEAN
LITERARY SOCIETY

Who's Who on the campus this week are pictured above. They are: left to right: Clinton Tutterow, Martha Gibbs, Pat Brown, and Joe Jack Wells.

as accompanist during a series of programs which starred Pete Shiflet, local vocalist. Most lately she provided incidental music for a dramatic reading given over the airwaves by Dorothy Gay Rockwood.

Dorothy Gay Rockwood's interest in dramatics was fostered by her appearing in school plays. At the time of her graduation, in 1949, the faculty members of Brevard high school chose her to receive the Dramatics medal, as the outstanding thespian of her class.

Dorothy Gay made her initial bow to the Transylvania radio audience when she recited "How the Elephant Got His Trunk" on the talent show last month. She will present "The Night Before Christmas" as a musical reading on the program some time in December. Dottie Gay will major in home economics at Woman's College, University of North Carolina, but she will also take courses in dramatics and elocution.

McFEE'S JEWELRY

Fine Line Of Jewelry

Dabbs & Yarbrough QUALITY GROCERY

Concord, N. C.

★ DORMITORY J WELCOMES THE ALUMNI ★ OF THE BREVARD JUNIOR COLLEGE

"BLUE J"

★ "La Maison des Geais Bleus" ★

SKYLAND HOTEL

Hendersonville

108 rooms — all with private bath
FIREPROOF COFFEE SHOP
Mgr. G. C. Bovard

JONES NEWS STAND FOR YOUR CANDIES