CHOIR PRESENTS CANTATA ON SUNDAY

The Brevard College Glee Club pictured above will present Lily Strickland's cantata "And On Earth Peace" tomorrow afternoon in the James Addison Jones library. Miss Strickland will be guest of honor for the occasion.

Lily Strickland Guest Of Honor

An internationally-known music figure, Lily Strickland, will be guest of honor here tomorrow afternoon when the college choir presents Miss Strickland's renowned "And On Earth Peace," a Christmas cantata.

The 51-voice choir, directed by Bruce A. Livengood, will perform the sacred selection at 4 p. m. in the James Addison Jones library.

Based on Scriptural texts, the cantata includes several solos for small groups. Soloists are Ellen Faulkner, Mary Jane Kornegay, and Jewell Sentelle, sopranos; Wayne Umphlett, baritone; and James Oliver Crawford, Jr., tenor. Members of the Women's sextet are Mary Jane Kornegay, Ellen Faulkner, Pat Brown, Jewell Sentelle, Mary Alice Hollifield, and Alice Leggett. Men's sextet members are Mack Lassiter, James Otis Crawford, Reid Gilbert, Lowrey Ferguson, Wayne Umphlett, and Francis B. Price. Miss Susan B. Graham is choral accompanist.

Also to be presented on Sunday's program are "The Shepherd's Story" with soloists Ellen Faulkner, Francis B. Price, by Dickinson, and Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus."

SKETCH GIVEN OF LILY STRICKLAND

Miss Strickland (Mrs. J. Courtney Anderson), a resident of Hendersonville, was born January 28, 1887, in Anderson, S. C. Educated in Spartanburg, S. C., at Converse college, Miss Strickland took a special music course there, later studying in New York. She has traveled in India and the Far East. Her compositions include "Lindy Lou," "Dreamin' Time," "Songs of India," and numerous other well-known secular and religious works.

Approximately 20 of Miss Strickland's East-Indian paintings will be on display in the library. These will be in the reference room. The library will be open to the public from 3:15 p. m. and for some time after the concert.

Christmas Party Given Tonight By George Ehlhardt

Since the college will close for the holidays on December 14, not to reopen until January 3, Brevard College will devote today and tomorrow to the celebration of Christmas.

EHLHARDT GIVES STUDENT BALL

The students at Brevard College are invited to a Christmas ball given by Mr. Ehlhardt tonight at 8 p. m. The ball will follow a formal dinner in the cafeteria. Mr. Ehlhardt requests that all the students attend the party so that they may help him to celebrate his 36th birthday.

Miss Louise Moseley will be in charge of the entertainment. The highlight of the evening will be a skit given by students and faculty members. Miss Moseley says that cards and other games will be provided for those who do not wish to dance. "This party is not primarily a dance, so those who do

New Constitution Is Adopted At Election In The Library December 1

Student government at Brevard College moved toward becoming a reality when the student body adopted a new constitution in an election held December 1 in the James Addison Jones library. The students voted overwhelmingly in favor of the new constitution, adopting it by a 152-8 majority. The faculty have yet to put their stamp of approval on the document; however, this action is expected to be taken almost immediately.

During a series of student body meetings held during the week of November 27, Bernie Welch, student council president, read and explained the proposed constitution. Questions and suggestions were discussed by various members of the student body.

A demerit system has been inserted into the constitution as a way of enforcing the rules of the college and the student council. When a student receives 25 demerits he will be brought before the student council. A list of the demerits for each offense follows:

Noise in library	25
Violating college policy	25
Misrepresentation of facts	25
Noise in dormitory during study hours	10
Girls smoking in town	10
Athletics before 3 p. m. on Sunday	10

In order to prevent students from overloading themselves with extra-curricular activities, an activities point system has been included in the new constitution. A student will be limited to 12 activity points each year. The offices
