

WHO'S WHO

BY HELEN HAYES

As everyone no doubt knows, Ellen Faulkner's favorite pastime is singing. Ellen, a graduate of Central high school, in Charlotte, is another addition to our music department this year. Although she is a voice major, she also is a pianist. Ellen is a lusty-throated addition to the musical sextet, quartet, and radio chorus. Although music constitutes a large part of her time, Ellen is also interested in other things. She is the secretary-treasurer of the freshman class and secretary and business manager of the glee club. Ellen and Kenny Davis make a cute couple.

"Where there's a will, there's a way," is the motto of our freshman class vice-president, Mack Armstrong. Mack is also secretary-treasurer of the ministerial club. This friendly and well-liked enthusiast of sports comes to us from Bessemer City. Mack says he is more or less a religious education major.

If you're ever passing West Hall and hear a voice that has the volume of 'The Big Brass Band from Brazil,' you'll know that Martha Washman is around. Martha is secretary of the Euterpean Literary society. Her hobbies are music and tennis. Her favorite sports are volleyball and basketball. Martha is another graduate of Central high school in Charlotte. This lively girl also belongs to The Christian Fellowship club.

Let's look around the campus. Who is the first person one sees? Well, yes, Charles Yarbrough. And who is he? Charles is president of the freshman class, president of the ministerial club, member of the Student council, business manager of the Pertelote, member of Phi Theta Kappa, member of the Christian Fellowship club, and is minister of the Etowah Methodist Church.

Have you ever seen Charles when he didn't have a smile or a nice word for you? Have you ever seen him in a bad mood? No, and neither has anyone else. One of the friendliest boys on the campus is Charles. By the way, Charles says he likes people. People like Charles, too.

Girls' Team Picked; Games Scheduled

The girls of Brevard College are practicing basketball every night at 6:30 p. m. in hopes that a good team will emerge from the 26 aspiring participants. Miss Louise Moseley has released the names of eight girls who have received suits.

The girls are Nancy Medford, Natalie Jones, Gloria Starnes, and Helen Coble, forwards; Joan Medford, Daphne Bowers, Marianna Young, and Ann Smith, guards. The remaining four vacancies will be filled by two guards and two forwards. Four other girls will be chosen within a week.

The team has eight definitely scheduled games—two with each school listed: Spartanburg junior college, Lees-McRae, Wingate, and Blanton's business college.

Religious Groups Meet; Make Plans

At a meeting in West Hall December 4 officers of the campus religious groups formed a Student Christian council to give these groups basis for unit representation in the student government of Brevard College.

The newly formed council acted to confirm in the office of representative of the student council for the religious groups, Ben Steele, president of the Christian Fellowship club, who had been serving as unofficial representative.

Presiding at this meeting, Steele led the group in a discussion of plans for a retreat to be held by the members of the Student Christian council during the period of February 3-4.

Steele also invited participation by the religious groups and by the college at large in the Christmas activities planned by the Christian Fellowship club.

He announced that the Christian Fellowship club is sponsoring a drive to help a needy family; and he urged that members of the religious clubs, of the study body, and of the faculty contribute articles of clothing. These will be received, he explained, at the regular meeting of the Christian Fellowship club to be held in Building D, at 6 p. m., December 12.

Steele said further that the general student body is invited to go caroling with the members of his club immediately after vespers on Wednesday night. Following the singing the carolers will return to the college cafeteria for hot drinks and doughnuts.

Heidt Telecast Will Star Hoyle

Bobby Hoyle, talented Brevard College sophomore, will appear on the Horace Heidt show over the CBS television network at 9:00 p. m., January 8.

On the night of December 3, Hoyle won second place in the Horace Heidt "Youth Opportunity" program, presented over the CBS standard broadcast network. He was competing against Arthur Olson, a six-time winner on the Heidt show, who placed first.

In Columbia, South Carolina, on December 3, Hoyle had recorded his act for the January telecast.

This was Hoyle's second participation in a Horace Heidt program. He appeared with Heidt last year in Augusta, Georgia. The Brevard sophomore describes his act as "imitations of barnyard animals, set off by a snappy fiddle number, 'Draggin' the Bow.'"

College To Have Display of Gowns

Students of home economics will give a style show in the James Addison library on Monday at 7:30.

The show will feature garments made under the direction of Miss Esther Montgomery by members of the regular student body and of the adult evening class.

The garments modeled will range through a variety of sports and more elaborate dresses. Included will be some children's clothing.

Members of the adult class are Mrs. Opal Johnson, Mrs. Doris Farley, Mrs. Jean Southerland, and the Misses Patricia Knott and Dottie Poole. Students who have made dresses are Billie Cline, Belva Nichols, Mary Nance Garner, Melba Eller, Mae Higgins, and Marianna Young.

A feature of the program will be the presentation of a United States flag made by members of the Home Economics club to President Ehlhardt for the college.
