

CLUB CAPERS

BY CHARLES HILBERS

May Dance

The Veterans Club has imported Tommy Taylor's Eastlake Country Club five piece orchestra to play for the May Day dance they are sponsoring Saturday night, May 4th. Plans were laid to have the dance in the new cafeteria, but because of construction setbacks the new building is not far enough along to have the dance there. Instead the dance will be held in the Gym. The members of the Veterans' Club have given a Saturday afternoon during which they will work for the J. A. Jones Construction Company in order to finance the dance, which is an annual affair. At their last dinner meeting about two weeks ago, committees were appointed to make plans for the coming dance. Don Oglesby is chairman of the decorations committee, the members of this committee can be seen scurrying around campus busily preparing for the dance. Jerry Stamey is chairman of the refreshment committee.

Kappa Chi

The club members received their pins this week, an event that has long been awaited by them. This Saturday at 2:00 the club will leave for a retreat at Pisgah Inn in Pisgah Forest. This meet will be a primarily a planning and inspirational retreat but the group will take time out for a little recreation.

The money collected all through the Lent season was sent to Casa Materna, an Italian orphan home, yesterday. The club had collected about $25.

Canterbury

The Canterbury club sponsored the Bloodmobile which was here Wednesday. Plans also were to give a trophy to the club whose members gave the most blood on a percentage basis.

The club plans to have a barbecue in the near future, and will probably elect officers at this meeting.

Spring Folk Festival

Fellows, break out your best pair of dungarees, and, gals, iron out that old calico 'cause Saturday night we're all gonna feel real fine. Along about 8:00, April 27th, the Women's Intramural Council is callin' in a caller and bringin' in a live string band and settin' us up in fine style for one of the low downest, high flingenest, outright square dances seen 'round these here parts for many a year. So come along and swing along Saturday night, right, straight to the basement of our good Women's Residence Hall.

Science Fair

Friday night, April 19th, the physics and math departments, the Alpha Beta Gamma, and the EMA Club co-sponsored the Science Fair. It was estimated that about 150 people, Brevard College students and faculty and visitors, attended the show which, in the opinion of Miss Bobbie Jean Nichelson, sponsor of Alpha Beta Gamma, was a huge success. All those who attended and filled out survey cards, wrote that they had enjoyed the show and would like to see it held as an annual affair. There was also a good bit of constructive criticism which was appreciated by the sponsors of the Fair. It seemed to be the general opinion that this criticism indicated the visitors thought enough of the show to contribute their ideas to make the Fair an even better one next year. The interest aroused through this function is encouraging — let's keep it up!

2 - 2 Equals 0

Engineering and mathematics students and other interested persons were treated to a very interesting lecture and demonstration of an analog and a digital calculator Tuesday evening, April 23rd. The speaker was Dr. John W. Cell of North Carolina State College who also spoke in chapel Wednesday, April 24th. After Tuesday night's lecture, Dr. Cell was besieged with questions by students and visitors whose interest had been aroused by his thought provoking address. Besides being listed in American Men of Science, Dr. Cell is technical director of a project conducted by the Ballistics Research Laboratories of Aberdeen Proving Grounds, and serves on the staff of North Carolina State College. Dr. Cell, the students of Brevard College extend to you a hearty vote of thanks.

CFC

At their last meeting held Tuesday night, the Christian Fellowship Club elected officers for next year. A slate is as follows: president, Evelyn Cook; secretary, Norma Rodgers; recreation leaders, Rayford Ledford, and Nancy Norton; vesper chairmen, Harry Queen and Clara Pruitt. As summer weather moves in the CFC will move out and conduct its meetings of singing and recreation under old Mother Nature's roof.

choir, and the Pertelote staff. Her interests are baby sitting, chess, crocheting, chemistry, math, and food.

Claudia's future plans are undecided but now religious education seems to be the field in which she is most interested.

Congratulations to a very deserving girl and the best of luck in a job that will be well done.

and Mrs. "Chick" Martin; the flower girl is Miss Lynda Ellene Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Francis of Waynesville.

The May Day Committee is composed of: Miss Bess Francis, chairman; Mrs. Iona Berry; Nelson Adams; Alex B. McFadden; and Kenneth DuBois.

The student director is David Jackson, of Hendersonville; he is assisted in the dances by Heyward McElveen.

The theme of the May Day celebration is "Seven Wonders"; the content of the script will not be revealed until the performance.

This afternoon's event is topped off with the May Day dance, sponsored by the Veteran's Club; it will begin at 8:00 in the gymnasium.
