BREVARD COLLEGE, JANUARY 23, 1959

NUMBER 6

SPRING SEMESTER REGISTRATION MONDAY

Baptist Magazine Announces Student Writer's Contest

THE BAPTIST STUDENT, Christiana collegiate magazine, has announced its 1959 student Writers' Contest, which will consist of two categories: (1) articles and short stories, and (2) poems and devotionals.

"Entries need not necessarily be religious in nature, states Dr. G. Kearnie Keegan, Student Department secretary and editor of the magazine. "They may be light or serious, but should be slanted primarily toward student readers."

Awards in the article and short story category will begin at $50, while the highest award for poetry and devotional entries will be $25. The deadline is set at April, 1959. Judging will be based on originality, writing technique, content, depth and insight, organization and development of ideas, interest, and readability.

Assembly Speakers Heard By Students

Mr. R. E. Matthews, head of the March of Dimes drive in Transylvania county, was the guest speaker in assembly on December 10. Mr. Matthews addressed the student body on the aims of this year's March of Dimes and also showed a film demonstrating the urgent need for additional funds to help not only polio victims but those suffering from birth defects and other crippling diseases.

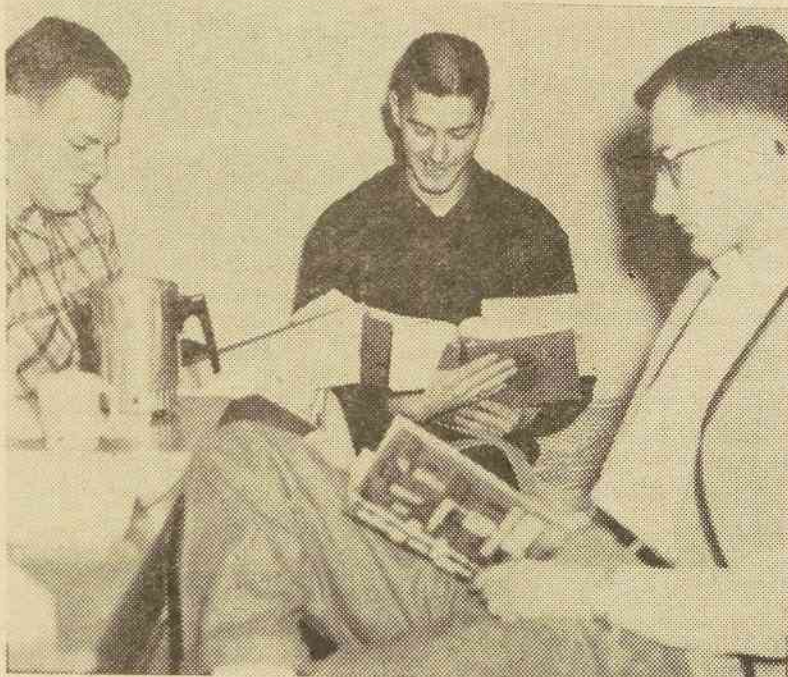

The dean of women, Miss Ruby Plant, spoke to the Brevard student body during the chapel service on Wednesday, January 15. The purpose of her talk was to help the students understand that their actions now and the way in which they perform their duties at the present will have a far-reaching effect on the rest of their lives.

In the Friday assembly on January 17, Dean John B. Bennett gave a unique synopsis of world events during the past year and exhorted the student body to have courage during the trials of exam week and, above all, not to concede defeat when the "going gets rough."

Hope's Moscow Show To Be Re-Telecast

In response to overwhelming requests from Viewers, the Bob Hope hour-long NBC-TV show filmed in Moscow last spring will be repeated, as a public service, on the NBC-TV Network Sunday, Jan. 25 from four to five p. m.

The telecast, first presented last April 5 and the initial American variety show originating in Russia, features some of its greatest entertainment figures and artists. It was made during Hope's visit to Moscow last March, as a cultural emissary of our State Department. Some of the film was obtained from the Russian government and other footage was shot on the spot with the help of Soviet photographers.

New Students To Arrive On Friday

Registration for the spring semester will be held Monday, January 26, in the Center building auditorium. Sophomores are to register from 8 to 10 o'clock, while freshmen and "carry-overs" may go through the line any time from 10 until 12 or from 1 to five.

Students should bring with them the pre-registration forms which they have already filled out. Their bill for the coming semester should be paid at the business office prior to their completing registration.

The payment for resident students will be approximately $207.50, while day students should be prepared to pay $85.00. The amounts for students with scholarships will vary, of course, according to the value of their grants.

Dr. Bennett states that each student should consult with his advisor prior to registration day so that any conflicts in the scheduling of courses can be worked out.

BULLETIN

Exams were held; Need we say more?

Roundup Of College Happenings Given

Library Display

The Librarians have arranged a valuable bulletin board on Alaska, our newest state. They have also included an explanation of the newly designed United States flag. This display, with its fitting illustrations, is another of the many useful exhibits developed by the library staff.

Mr. Kenerly

Mr. Ben Kenerly, manager of the book store and affectionately known to the students as "Pop," has been indisposed for the past few days. He underwent a minor operation at the Baptist hospital, but he is now at home. Much student concern has been voiced over his illness, and we all wish him a rapid recovery.

Munro Speaks

Mr. Munro, husband of Mrs. Munro of the business department, spoke to the Business Club on Thursday evening, January 8. His address dealt with the business major in a modern society.

Roys Entertain

Professor and Mrs. Roy entertained members of Kappa Chi Fraternity by inviting them to supper at their home on Sunday evening, January 18. The Roys have done this annually for some years, and always Fraternity members are high in their praise of the Moravian cookies which have become a part of the event. Mr. Roy is the group's advisor; Mrs. Roy is an honorary member.

Choir Sings

The college choir sang on Sunday morning, January 11, for the morning worship service at the Methodist church. Directed by Professor Cousins and accompanied by Professor Adams, the choir plays a major role in the work of the music department. The choir also sang for the morning service.
