

Glee Club Will Leave On Annual Spring Tour April 15th

Orr, Brevard Alumnus, Is Author Of Biography Of Former Governor

The University of North Carolina recently published a book, Charles Brantley Aycock, written by Dr. Oliver H. Orr, Jr.

The biography traces the vital role which Governor Aycock played in the shaping of North Carolina into one of the South's leading states. He was a Democratic party leader, governor, and elder statesman during his political career. He is sometimes called the "Educational Governor" for his interest in the improvement and extension of public education.

Dr. Orr received his Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina. He is now a member of the history and political science department of North Carolina State College. He was born in the old Orr home which stood where the present Brevard College Library is located. His parents attended Brevard

DR. OLIVER H. ORR

Institute and his father served both as principal and superintendent of the Institute.

Mr. And Mrs. Perez Will Teach Spanish Next Year

The Business Office force is being assisted this semester by Mr. Mario P. Perez of Havana, Cuba. Mr. Perez will work in the Business Office for the remainder of this semester, and the following semester he and his wife will begin teaching here at Brevard College.

Mr. Perez will teach advanced Spanish, accounting, and possibly economics. His wife will be teaching beginning Spanish.

Mr. Perez was head of the Havana Military Academy's Business Department from 1953 to 1960. He was also Senior Professor of Accounting at the Masonic University of Cuba. He started teaching at the age of 18 as an auxiliary teacher of business, and in the short span of three years he was promoted to the Head of Commerce Department, and remained there for twelve years.

Mr. Perez was affiliated with the Havana Branch of Ford Motor Company, serving as Personnel Accessories Supervisor for the entire Caribbean area. However, his main interest was teaching, and he resumed this profession at the Havana Military Academy.

His wife received her Doctor of Education at the University of Havana, and has been teaching for 15 years at Candler College.

—Turn To Page Four

Group Will Sing In Washington, Virginia And North Carolina

Amendments To Constitution Are Presented To Students

The Student Government Association of Brevard College presented these two amendments to the Constitution of the Student Government Association to the Student Body last Wednesday in assembly for their approval or disapproval. Voting will take place Wednesday, March 29.

Resolved that: That part of Article VI, Section 3 of the Constitution of the Student Government Association of Brevard College which reads: "Each officer and representative must have a "C" or above in all his work at any time grades are reported from the time of his election through his entire term of office. If the grade average falls below a "C" in any subject at any time when grades are officially reported, the officer is automatically disqualified from continuing in office." be amended to read: "Each officer and representative must have a 1.250 average with no "F" at any time grades are reported from the time of his election through his entire term of office. Failure to maintain these requirements will result in the student being permanently replaced in office."

Resolved that: Section 6 of Article VI read "If the vacancy occurs during the first semester, the vacancy is announced to the Association. The Association will then nominate and elect according to provisions in Section I and Section 5 of Article VI." Be amended to read "If the vacancy occurs during the first semester, a replacement shall be elected by the student body at a called assembly."

Plans for part of the forthcoming Glee Club tour are still incomplete, with Mr. Hardesty still working to fill up the empty dates in the tour. As plans now stand, the glee club will leave early on the morning of April 15 and go straight to Washington, D. C.

Sunday morning they will sing in Alexandria, Virginia; Sunday afternoon, at Washington Cathedral; and Sunday night, at Mt. Vernonplace in Washington.

Monday morning the club will sing at Groverton High School in Alexandria. They will be free for the remaining part of the day for sight-seeing.

Pam McKinney's father and mother have invited the group to a buffet supper at their home in Bethesda, Maryland, on Monday night. Most of the Glee Club will go to Glen Echo following the supper.

Most of Tuesday will be taken up in traveling back to North Carolina. Tour dates completed in North Carolina at the present are these: Thursday night, Cobrun Memorial Methodist Church in Salisbury; Friday night, the Methodist home in Charlotte; —Turn to Page Three

All library books must be returned by March 25. Those desiring to check out books for the holidays may do so on this date.

According to an announcement by Dean John Bennett, Spring holidays will begin at 12 noon Thursday, March 30, and classes will resume at 8 a.m. Monday, April 10.