Tornadoes Win Playoff; Play For Region Title

Bennett Attacks Community Colleges

The North Carolina General Assembly has offered at its current session a proposal to establish fifteen or more two-year community colleges. John B. Bennett, Dean of Brevard College, presented a five-page letter to North Carolina citizens relating the conclusions of an extensive study that he made to the Assembly's proposal. His arguments are as follows: (1) New colleges are not now needed in North Carolina. (2) New colleges are not needed in the near future in North Carolina. (3) Private colleges (small ones especially) will be seriously hurt by the addition of community colleges. (4) The quality of public higher education in North Carolina will be threatened by such colleges. (5) Money necessary for such an undertaking would be far better spent on existing public colleges, the improvement of the public schools, and expansion of certain phases

New England Artist Exhibits Portraits

The portrait work of Margret Reed (Mrs. David Allen Reed) is on exhibit in the Faculty Lounge of the Campus Center Building. The paintings, done in brilliant colors and bold brush strokes, are portraits of her family and friends.

Mrs. Reed, who is originally from New England, studied at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts under such men as John Singer Sargent, William Paxton, Philip Hale, William James,

Miss Theresa Foster and Mr. Russell Pearson have been elected by the sophomore class as "Mr. and Miss Sophomore." Theresa, from Mocksville, N. C., was Brevard's 1962 Homecoming Queen and is a Big Sister. Last summer she represented her county as "Dairy Princess." Russell, a native of Wilkesboro, N. C., is a member of the Clisophic Society.

HOXIT, NO. 54, shoots from 10 ft. mark as Gardner-Webb team looks on — all five of them. Forte, No. 24, waits under the net for the rebound. Brevard defeat GW, 74-57.

Fredrick Bosley, and Frank Benson. However, Mrs. Reed says, "My architect husband has been the most help to me."

She is very successful at painting children's portraits and capturing their gentleness.

Mr. Kenneth DuBois, head of the Art Department, considers the exhibit as one of the best ever hung at the college. Mr. DuBois says, "She has unusual talent in capturing the essence of character and interpreting personalities."

Marionettes Invade

L l o r d s' "International", "World on a String", was presented on March 4, at 8:15 P. M. in the auditorium of the Campus Center Building.

Mr. Daniel Llord has presented his marionette company of over 200 members in eleven nations and several different continents of the world.

The Brevard performance was the last that Mr. Llord was to make in the United States before he embarks on a two-year tour of the world to perform in such cities as Warsaw, Hong-Kong, Prague, Istanbul, Budapest, and Paris. Mr. Llord translates the dialogue in his shows into German, Spanish, French, or Italian according to dictates of his audience.

The performance was given to the music: Capriccio Espagrole, Faust, Ballet Music, The Nutcracker Suite, "The Dying Swan," and "The Gaiete Parisienne."

The American Ambassador to the puppet world, Mr. Llord, planned and engineered the entire set — from the lighting to the marionettes and their costumes.

Through March 5, 1963, a total of $327 had been contributed to the Pop Kennerly Memorial Fund which constitutes a portion of the New Building Development Fund. There have been thirty-three cash and pledge donations received, some from groups, others from individuals.

A local goal for the Building Program has been set for $60,000. Contributions have been received, totaling $26,084.00 which is 43½% of the total goal. Forty-eight employees have contributed a pledge to the Development Fund amounting to $5,787.00. There has also been $185 donated by seven alumni.

Goforth To Sing In State Contest

After attaining a "superior" rating at the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs Contest on March 2 at Mars Hill College, Johnny Goforth will sing for the Samuel Goodman Scholarship at the State contest to be held at Gilford College on March 16.

Accompanied by Linda Edwards playing the piano, Johnny sang "The People that Walk in Darkness" from "The Messiah" and "Armarilli" by Cocini in last week's contest.

Tourney Champs Fall To Season Leaders

Brevard College made a strong comeback on their home court, February 28 by defeating the Western Carolinas Junior College Tournament Champion, Gardner-Webb, 74-57. This victory entitles Brevard to play in the district which starts at Brevard, March 9, and a possible spot in the National Junior College Tournament in Kansas.

The Tornadoes led from the beginning and soon had a 20 point advantage over their foes. The score at halftime was 41 to 21.

Gene Allen, of Brevard, was high scorer for the night with

Members are recognized for character, leadership, scholarship, and service. Miss Parks has exhibited par-excellence in her academic endeavor and was chosen recipient of a National Institute of Health Fellowship. She plans to enter the profession of medicine.

DOG GOES TO INFIRMARY

Everybody knows where the infirmary is — even the dogs know where to go to get first-aid treatment. Pluto, Dean Roberts' dog, got in a fight, wounding his opponent with a bite in the hind leg. The loser, dripping with blood, immediately limped up the back steps of the infirmary to receive medication.
