President McLarty Pays Tribute

President Emmett K. McLarty traveled to Gastonia on November 5, to a special event celebrating the birthday of Allen H. Sims, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Brevard College.

Approximately 350 friends of Mr. Sims gathered Tuesday night to wish him a "Happy Birthday" and thank him for his many years of service to the community and to posterity. The event was sponsored by the Gastonia Chamber of Commerce and the program was along the line of "This is Your Life." Mr. Sims is President of the Citizens National Bank in Gastonia.

Following are some excerpts from President McLarty's address honoring Mr. Sims.

"Much of the progress of Brevard College in recent years stems from the leadership you have given this Christian institution with whose fortunes you have been intimately bound. Your trusteeship at this college covers a twenty-year period, and during the last two and one-half years you have been Chairman of the Board of Trustees. During this time the college has made substantial strides forward in several areas, and these have largely been made because of your interest and effort.

At the last meeting of the trustees of the college, the official record of the college was re-confirmed that the Student Center when formally dedicated will bear the name, The Sims Student Center in memory of

Taylor Wins Award Second Time

Taylor, the oldest dormitory on campus, has now won two first place awards in the second annual contest for the President's Trophy. Jones Hall, the women's dorm, has also received two awards, both second places. The men of Green Hall, the newest of the three, have yet to score.

Mr. Butterworth, business manager, pointed out that the independent inspectors take into consideration both the age of the dormitory and the number of occupants. He also added that he hoped that the competitive spirit will continue and that the Green Hall men have not given up.

After each inspection, bulletins have been posted in each of the dorms pointing out the major deficiencies.

1963 Pertelote Receives First Place Rating

The 1963 Pertelote, edited by Jeanne Cleary, has won a first place rating in the 1963 Yearbook Critique and Contest.

Through the combined efforts of an efficient staff, their adviser, Mrs. Brona Roy, and Mr. Glenn Hardesty in the Public Relations office, the yearbook received perfect scores on the outline and on construction—the order, theme, etc. Perte-lote scored 913 points out of a possible 1000. A score of 850 or better was rated first place.

The 1963 edition is the first Pertelote to be rated in first place. It has been awarded a certificate embossed in gold.

The annual Critique and Contest is held by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. This professional organization of more than 2,000 teacher-advisers was organized in 1927 to further the development and expansion of the school press field in accordance with accepted educational practices.

Primarily a Critique for the Yearbook or the Class book, the Contest provides a periodic rating on a nationwide basis by a board of experienced judges. Advisers in the field, printers, engravers, photographers, paper and cover manufacturers are consulted in the study.

The critique aims to stimulate student interest and activity and to contribute to the betterment of the book. The growth of the number of entrants in the contest gives testimony of the value and effectiveness of the objective service rendered to Advisers and staff members by the Association.

From last year's Pertelote staff there are three members who hold positions this year. Richard Jones, this year's Editor, was Layout and Faculty Editor last year; Sue Rising, Feature Editor was Club Editor; and Dona Vaughn, Copy Editor was Assistant Feature Editor.

So congratulations to Jeanne Cleary, her staff, Mrs. Roy, and the many helpers on their achievement, and good luck to Richard and the 1964 Pertelote!

Thanksgiving

Banquet To Be Held

Brevard College's students will be entertained at the annual Thanksgiving banquet on Monday, November 25. The school's one and only banquet of the year will begin promptly at 5:30 P.M. in the college cafeteria.

This year, as in the past, the main event on the program will be a "chalk talk", given by President Emmett K. McLarty. A "chalk talk" is a group address which is supplemented with the use of blackboard illustrations made with colored chalk. A devotional message will be presented by John Foil. Entertainment will be presented by Mr. Nelson F. Adams, head of the music department. Miss Joan Moser, another member of the music department, will also participate in the program.

Students Earn Honor Grades

Mid-semester grades have been released to Brevard College students. Twenty-eight students have earned honor grades. To be eligible for the Dean's List, students must achieve a 2.5 average on all work attempted. Those who earn a 2.0 average are listed on the Honor Roll.

There were seven students on the Dean's List this grading period: Donna Blankinship of Brevard; Melba Blanton, Concord; Susan Cannon, Rutherford College; David Cort, Asheville; Deedra Dickinson, Winter Park Florida; Jané Martin, Lewisville; and Robin May, Rockville Maryland.

Twenty-one students earned a 2.0 average: Catherine Atwell, Brevard; Judy Barnes, Easley, South Carolina; David Bashaw, Black Mountain; Thomas Blackwell, Brevard; Maurine Brandon, Fallston; Dana Congdon, Hendersonville; Judy Conrad, Winston-Salem.

BLT Group Performs On Campus

The Brevard Little Theatre welcomes students and faculty to see "The Solid Gold Cadillac", the first production of the '63-64 season. It will be given in the auditorium of the Brevard College campus center building on Friday and Saturday, November 22 and 23 at 8:00 P.M.

Five college students will appear in roles. Marvin Stout, in a lead role, plays Warren Gillie, a member of the board of directors of General Products Corporation. Larry Davis and Don Cheeseman play reporters with the U.P. and A.P. Steve Clark and Vince Dennen are news broadcasters.

This bright, neatly managed comedy is a farcical spoof of big business, politics, TV commentators, newspaper reporting, the theatre and assorted subjects. It is the story of a small
