

The war in Viet Nam is absurd, insane, and inhuman . . .

The Clarion

But so was the American Revolution.

VOLUME XXXIII

BREVARD COLLEGE, BREVARD, N. C., NOV. 5, 1965

NUMBER 8

36 Students Achieve Grade Honor Status

Thirty-six students earned grade-point averages of 2.0 or above at mid-semester. Six of these students were on the Dean's List. They are as follows: Linda Davis (2.889), Cynthia Senn (2.778), Jenny Munro (2.722), Juliamae Rutledge (2.526), Janet New (2.500), and Wendy Sheridan (2.500).

Thirty students made the Honor Roll. Below are their names and averages: Deanna Barnwell (2.421), Tim Bryson (2.410), Benji Sullivan (2.357), Cynthia Hunter (2.353), Lesley Johnson (2.342), Sheila Gossett (2.333), Sue Smith (2.333), Diane Steelman (2.333), Lawton Roberts (2.250), John Brookshire (2.176), Jeanne Jessen (2.167), Mark Price (2.158), Gail Lehman (2.133), Carol Clayton (2.111), Anthony Argo (2.081), Jimmy Childers (2.067), Richard Armstrong (2.056), Ralph Peters (2.056), Judy Poole (2.056), Bruce Bryant (2.000), Carol Crouch (2.000), Sandra English (2.000), Jacquelyn Howie (2.000), Barbara Kirk (2.000), George Lee (2.000), Marilyn Moore (2.000), David Morrow (2.000), Judy Sellers (2.000), William Smith (2.000), Patricia Storrs (2.000).

Science Movie Presented; Business Club Meets

On October 25 the science department presented an hour long movie entitled "The Thread of Life." The movie was a Bell Telephone production which dealt with the problem of genetics. The form used in the movie was that of question and answers, with such questions being answered as which factors are dominant and which are recessive in the human species? Why would a child have red hair if both parents have brown hair? What is the cause of baldness? Which parent determines the sex of a child?

The DNA molecule and its contribution to genetics was also discussed in great length.

If anyone would like to know more about the movie and genetics, a detailed summary may be obtained from the science department.

The Brevard College Business Club held its first meeting on October 28, 1965, at 6:30 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge.

Following the welcome of all old and new members, the offices of secretary and treasurer were voted upon. The 1965-66 officers are as follows:

Gail Jones - President

Kathy Kanipe - Vice-President

Kay Whitmire - Secretary

Marsha Chandler - Treasurer

Several suggestions were made for a Thanksgiving project, which will be planned before the next meeting.

An informal panel discussion was held by several girls who worked this summer. These girls were Virginia Hollinger, Lynne Gregory, Diane Bartie, Kay Whitmire, and Kathy Kanipe. Their jobs consisted of working as secretaries in a state tax office, doctor's office, hospital, and for Kelley Girls. The moderator for the panel was Kathy Kanipe.

Following the meeting, a social hour was held. Refreshments were served, despite the frozen gingerale!

Maggie Masters To Culminate Mountain Lore

Friday at Four this week will present Mrs. Maggie Masters, who will give a discussion and display of enamel-work in the Classroom-Recital Hall, III, Dunham Music Center.

Mrs. Masters and her husband "Gus" have a craft shop at Cedar Mountain. They design jewelry, bowls, and small plaques. Their work is done in enamel on copper. The Masters' crafts have been displayed in various gift shops around Brevard and Asheville.

The Masters are members of the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild, an association of craftsmen of the Appalachian area. To be admitted to the Guild, one must pass a rigid examination, submitting for judging examples of his particular work.

Originally from California, Mrs. Masters first learned to work with enamels there. While in California, she also received training in dramatics, having an assistant directorship at the Pasadena Playhouse.

Mrs. Masters has been very active in the Brevard Little Theater, participating in such pro-

—Turn to Page Six

DEAN JARRELL and Miss Moser are caught being ethnic preceding their folk concert. Actually, they are helping the music department move into their new building.

Christian Clubs Have Songfest, Williams' Talk

Christian Council sponsored a Hootenanny Friday, October 22, at 7:30. Dean Jarrell and Miss Moser provided banjo accompaniment for group singing and talent, ranging from the baritone ballads of Jeff Dalton to the talking blues as performed by Tim Mace ("Candy Bar Blues") and Mark Price ("Life Gets Tedious, Don't It?")

Jeff Dalton performed several encores singing "Old Man River" and "M. T. A." The hootenanny was organized by Carol Crouch, Christian Council president.

Mr. Edwin Williams, Religion professor at Brevard College, spoke on Buddhism at the Westminster meeting on Sunday, October 31.

The relationship between the Hindu and the Buddhist religion was discussed, as well as the history and major characteristics of the latter one. A continuation of this study will be held Sunday, November 6, at 9:45 at the Presbyterian Church. All students are invited to attend the session and the time of fellowship following it.

The next series of programs to be held will be on evolution by Mr. Charles Davis, who has

Board Meets, Reveals Scholarships, Grants

A large number of Brevard College trustees met Friday, October 15, to review progress and formulate plans for the future.

Reports were made by all major standing committees. Leon Ivey, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee, announced that Trustee R. W. Partin and Mrs. Partin of Asheville have made an annual gift of $1,100 to be used for student aid. Dwight Phillips, Chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee, reported that bids for the first two of the four new buildings to be constructed this year (dormitory, library, cafeteria, and classroom) will be advertised at an early date. Construction is expected to begin by the first of the year or earlier.

President McLarty announced that a $10,000 trust fund for the college was left in the estate of William Sprinkle of Durham. In describing the allocation of his personal Discretionary Fund, the President stated that the old Rutherford College motto, "None will be turned away for want of financial means," can still be put into effect. Both small and large contributions are yearly sent to the President to aid him in assisting needy students who deserve such aid.

Dr. McLarty outlined to the trustees the work of a newly-organized College Coordinating Council in the Western North

—Turn to Page Four

Societies Hold Tea, Initiation

In a one-week whirlwind, the Cliosopic and Delphian societies initiated new pledges into the organizations.

Delphians held their "Smoker" Monday October 25, designed to acquaint new and old members. They held another short meeting Thursday to outline pledge duties for the following day.

The Clio Smoker was held on Tuesday, October 26, at which time the president, Claude Garret outlined plans for coming year.

Pledge day for both societies began early Friday, with seranades for Jones and Ross Halls; it was the only break in the day-long silence for the Clios except to address sophomores masters. Hundreds of shoes were polished by grumbling pledges. One Clio held the lunchroom door for all girls at breakfast.

made a study of this field in relation to Christianity.

Fifteen members of the Kappa Chi attended a Christian vocations conference, October 24, at Abernathy Methodist Church, Asheville, North Carolina. The conference began at 3:00 with an address by Bishop Earl G. Hunt, Bishop of the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church. His address centered around the requirements and problems of full-time Christian service. The address was followed by discussion groups and personal interviews with Bishop Hunt. Bishop Hunt voiced the challenge of Christian vocations in modern society.

Other duties included fetching rocks and delivering messages.

Both societies ended the day on a physical note; as Delphians ran around campus; Clio pledges were tested in push-ups, pull-ups, etc.

The Nu Epsilon Mu Omega Society held its formal induction of members at a dinner given on Thursday, October 28 in the Student Lounge. Mrs. Walker, advisor, gave a short welcome address to all members. Following an invocation by Sue Contreras, dinner was served. After dinner the speeches on the club creed, truth, loyalty, and fellowship

—Turn to Page Two

Partins Set Trust Fund

"None shall be turned away for want of means," reads the legend above the entrance to Brevard College, and Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Partin of Asheville, North Carolina, are helping to fulfill that promise made years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Partin have set up a trust fund of $1,100. The income from which is annually to be used in the scholarships to be given to students at the college. Mr. Partin, a trustee of the college, was aware of the great need for additional funds when he gave the money to the students of the college.

The recipients will be informed of the donor in order that letters of appreciation may be written.