Amer.-Europ. Program Offers Jobs Overseas

The American - European Student Service is now soliciting students to fill the limitless job capacities offered in Germany, Scandinavia, England, Austria, Switzerland, France, Italy and Spain. The jobs consist of forestry work, child care work (females only), farm work, hotel work (limited number available), construction work, and other jobs requiring specialized training. For several years, students have made their way across the Atlantic to explore the lives of the European people. The success of this project has sparked much enthusiasm and support both in the United States and Europe.

The purpose of this program is to afford the student an opportunity to learn of the people and customs of Europe first hand. In return for the work, room, board, and wages will be received. However, students should keep in mind that they will be working on the European economy, and wages will naturally be scaled accordingly. The working conditions will be strictly controlled by the labor ministries of the countries involved. The employers are especially interested in the American student and are well-informed of the intention of the program.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from American - European Student Service, Box 34733, FL 9490, Vaduz, Liechtenstein (Europe).

Mrs. Doris Potts, biology and zoology instructor, has announced several details of the marine ecology course to be conducted in the Bahamas.

The class will leave Brevard December 15, for West Palm Beach, Florida. They will then take a flight to Marsh Harbor, where a seaplane will whisk the group off to Hopetown, in the Bahamas. There they will remain until January 6.

Mail should be addressed to Brevard College Marine Ecology, in care of Percy Gates (Hopetown Agency, Ltd.), Hopetown, Abaco, Bahamas.

Choice Made In Chicago

The Brevard College Department of Music has been elected to Associate Membership in the National Association of Schools of Music. The announcement came November 24 at the annual meeting of the National Association of Schools of Music in Chicago. Mr. Nelson Adams, chairman of the Division of Fine Arts at Brevard College, accepted the membership.

Membership of the Association includes over 300 institutions of higher learning in the United States, but Brevard becomes one of only a few junior colleges with membership.

The NASM is designed by the National Commission on Accrediting as the responsible agency for the accreditation of all music degree curricula with specialization in the fields of applied music, music theory, composition, music therapy, musicology, and music as a major in liberal arts programs. Its deliberations will play an important part in music education trends in their country.

The "Clarion" would like to express its congratulations to Mr. Adams and the entire music staff for their efforts in the past several years in attaining accreditation. The "Clarion" feels that Brevard College has the finest music department anywhere; and, without a doubt, the finest instructors obtainable in the field of music.

Drama Club's "Barn" Makes Its Big Debut

Last Thursday night, Brevard College witnessed the dedication of a new and unique type of theater. The barn, previously used by the music department, has undergone first stages of renovation to be henceforth used by the college dramatics department.

Beginning at 8:00 Thanksgiving evening, open house, or "open barn" if you like, was held. Refreshments and music were followed by a skit, a one-act play, and more skits. The two former were written by members of the Masquers.

The first skit consisted of a series of comical interviews: "What would you do if you had eight days left to live?" This was followed by the play, which starred Bob Yarns in the part of Jim Alden, a gardener. The purpose of this play was the understanding of different types of people, different personality types.

Skits by individual campus organizations followed to close the evening. When asked what she thought about the opening of the barn, Miss Taylor replied, "Whoopie Doo!"
