Wallace Speaks To Span.-Amer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Wallace presented a very informative program to the members of the Spanish American Club February 19 in Dunham Auditorium. The program consisted of slides taken by the Wallace's on their tour of Spain and Portugal last fall.

Mr. Wallace is former Assistant of Public Relations and instructor in drama and speech at Brevard College.

The majestic scenery and the magnificence of the two countries themselves were captured by the slides of such cities as Madrid, Toledo, Cordova, and Lisbon.

Describing the slides, Mrs. Wallace told of the many gardens and captivating museums in the cities.

"From the air," stated Mr. Wallace, "Spain looked like the Badlands of South Dakota. But the minute we landed, I felt the exciting atmosphere that is so much Spain."

Mixing the history of the country and people with the current trends, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace provided to the club members a true and unique picture of the Spanish and Portuguese.

Sociology Lecture Series Will Begin On Monday

The Reverend Edsel Keith, rector of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Brevard, will be the first of a series of special lecturers to Mrs. Harris' classes in Sociology 28 (Marriage and the Family) on February 26. Born in St. Louis, Missouri, Mr. Keith, after graduating from high school, entered the Army and served in the European Theater of Operations during World War II. Upon his return, he graduated from Colgate-Rochester Divinity School and Philadelphia Divinity School. He served several Mississippi parishes and came to Brevard from Huntsville, Alabama,

While in Huntsville, Mr. Keith helped organize the Mayor's Committee to check on juveniles to see that young delinquents were transferred from jails for adult offenders to the newly-set-up Juvenile Detention Home. He also was instrumental in securing a family counseling agency for the city of Huntsville; and was active in Alcoholics Anonymous.

Mr. Keith is married to the former Ann Simpson of Atlanta. He met his future wife while both were attending an Episcopal Retreat. They have four children.

Faculty and students are invited to hear Mr. Keith speak on some phase of marriage and the family at 9:00 a. m. in Room 204 of the Classroom Building; at 11:00 a. m., Room 201; and at 2:00 p. m., Room 202.

Zen Den Will Feature Hobbits

From the Thrid Age of Middle Earth come Frodo, Bilbo, and the other hobbits. What are hobbits? J.R.R. Tolkien (he should know) describes them as a little people, smaller than dwarves: less stout and stocky . . . their height is variable, ranging between two and four feet . . . they dress in bright colors, being notably fond of yellow and green . . . they seldom wear shoes, since their feet have tough leathery soles and they are clad in a thick curling hair, much like the hair of their heads, which was commonly brown . . . their faces are broad bright-eyed, red-cheeked, with mouths apt to laughter . . . they are fond of six meals a day."

The ecstatic ZEN DEN is looking for a photograph or at least a drawing or sculpture of a real hobbit. A mathom prize will be awarded for the best one. Contest rules are posted in the classroom building and in the cafeteria.

Along with the hobbits will Christianity In Business?

The Business Club of Brevard College held its regular monthly meeting February 20, 1968 at 6:30 p. m. in the faculty lounge of Beam Administration Building.

Following the regular business, Dr. E. K. McLarty, president of Brevard College, was introduced as the guest speaker. President McLarty discussed with the group "Christianity in the Business World." He stressed the fact that Christianity is not divided, that " . . . if Christianity does not exist in the business world, then it does not exist at all. If all workers do not believe in Christianity, it will not exist. Simply following the rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you, is evidence that it does exist."

Christianity is not divided into the business world, the scientific world, the educational world, or whatever, — it is all

The students also decided that three referendum questions be included on the ballot. Two deal with the country's current involvement in Viet Nam, and one with the priorities of government spending in confronting the "urban crisis". Mr. Richard Scammon, Director of the Elections Research Center, and Dr. Howard Penniman of the Political Science Department at Georgetown University assisted the Board in their efforts to ensure that the various questions were properly phrased towards achieving maximum clarity.

In addition, the Board resolved several administrative questions, such as voter qualification. It was decided that any student currently enrolled in an American college or university will be eligible to vote in the CHOICE 68 election. This include graduate, part-time, and foreign students, as well as those studying abroad in American branch universities.

The Board announced their decisions at a national news conference held on February 13 which was covered extensively by the major television networks and press wire services.
