Brevard College Trustees Hold Spring Meeting

The annual spring meeting of the Brevard College Board of Trustees was held on the campus of Brevard College on Thursday and Friday, April 4 and 5.

Chairman of the Board, Mr. Allen H. Sims announced that bids will be asked on the new Goodson Classroom Building by July 1. Construction of the new classroom building should be completed for the opening of the fall semester 1969-70.

Efforts will begin immediately to raise funds for the Sims Student Union Building which is in line for construction to begin in October.

The construction of the Clontz memorial reflection pools in front of the Beam Administration Building will begin immediately.

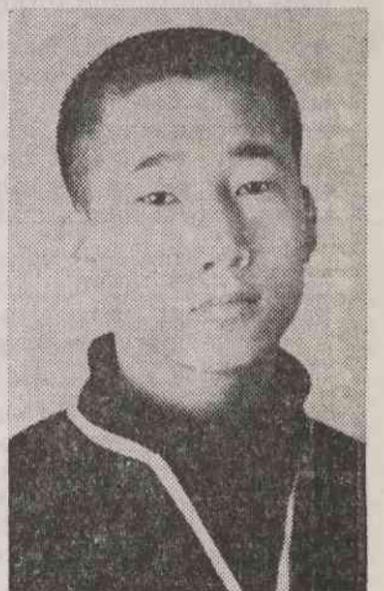

The Mary Jane Hefner Memorial Library Fund was accepted by the Board. This fund is given by the Reverend and Mrs. Cecil G. Hefner of Statesville in memory of their daughter. Income from this fund will be used to purchase new books in religion.

A scholarship fund to be used to help worthy students was announced by President McLarty. This fund is given by Dr. Frank Jordan and Senator B. Everett Jordan in memory of their brother, Dr. Henry Jordan, a former trustee of Brevard College.

The Board of Trustees nominated Mr. Max Watson of Forest City, North Carolina as a new member of the Board.

The Executive Committee passed the proposed Study Supplement and Sabbatical Leave Program for faculty members of Brevard College. Members of the full-time faculty will be eligible for study supplements, for summer under certain conditions. The Sabbatical program will take effect in the fall of 1969-70.

Counselor Writes Of Save-A-Child

March 12, 1968

After three years of faithful study, Yung Twan graduated from his middle school in January this year and he entered a fine senior high school, Kyung Ki Commercial High School, through a competitive entrance examination. Yung Hwan said he was very happy when he was able to enter this school.

This high school is a three-year course. At this school, Yung Hwan will get a little advanced education and training for the development of his abilities and personality. He will learn and study more about his world and life through various subjects. And since his school is a commercial school, he will study many lessons on commerce. This high school education will lead him to better opportunity for more successful and productive life in the future.

TALENT SHOW

On Tuesday, April 16, a talent show will be held in Dunham Auditorium at 6:30. Everyone is invited to participate or to come and view the excitement.

The show is being sponsored by the Business Club of Brevard College. Admission will be twenty-five cents. The proceeds will be given to Sav-A-Child Foundation.

Dinner Held For Convention Center Built At Myrtle Beach BC Trustees

The Trustees of Brevard College and their wives were guests of the College for dinner on Thursday evening, April 4.

They, with the faculty and staff of the College, enjoyed after-dinner presentations of the Music Department's Madrigal Singers, Wind Choir and the combined group under the direction of Miss Tillotson. Mezzo-soprano, Ann Sessions, sang "No so piu" from THE MARRIAGE OF FIGARO by Mozart. The folk singers, "The Bounty Three", were one of the highlights of the delightful program.

Mrs. Doris Potts took the guests on a tour with the Marine Ecology Group via color slides taken while the group was in the Bahamas during the Christmas holidays.

A dance drama, "Dance of the Black-Haired Mountain Storm" from WIND DRUM by Horhanness, under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Daye, was the finale of the evening.

Friday morning, April 5, Mrs. McLarty held open house at her home for the wives of the Trustees. They enjoyed sharing ideas about Easter decorations. Mrs. Mabel Alderman displayed some of her famous intricately decorated Easter eggs.

This weekend many of Brevard students will be hitting the road to the Grand Strand area of South Carolina. The beaches are just beginning their season and a lot of entertainment will be available to the collegiate crowd.

Easter weekend April 12 and 13 Myrtle Beach Convention Center will play host to several big name groups. On the 12, the Showmen, Spyder Turner, Barbara Lewis and the Inmen will be featured. On the 13 The Shirelles, The Showmen, Clifford Curry and the Inmen will be presented.

The Convention Center is a new multi-million dollar structure and houses over 10,000 people. It promises to give college students better entertainment during the coming summer months.

Possibility of coming attractions during the summer months are as follows: Paul Revere and the Raiders, Little Anthony and the Imperials, The Platters, Marvin Gave, Stevie Wonder, Smokey Robinson and the Miracles, The Temptations, Righteous Brothers and Sam and Dave.

The Center wants to please the college crowd and asks that anyone having any preferred artist other than the ones listed write and let them know. The address is P. O. Box 743, Ocean Drive Beach, South Carolina.

Study Of Transfer Students Made

Between ninety and ninety-two percent of Brevard College graduates transfer to senior colleges or universities.

The North Carolina Board of Higher Education has completed a study of transfer students in the fall of 1967 from two-year institutions to senior institutions.

Senior institutions in North Carolina reported 104 transfers from Brevard College. Institutions reporting ten or more transferring from Brevard were UNC-Chapel Hill (23), Western Carolina (18), Appalachian (14), and High Point (11). Sixteen North Carolina Senior institutions reported one or more Brevard College transfer students.

This study was conducted for North Carolina institutions only, and does not include Brevard College graduates who transfer to out-of-state colleges and universities.

Assembly On LSD Is Held

Students sat in awe and fright and, at the same time, gained some valuable information during an assembly presented April 9 by Eston Roberts, Dean of Students. The topic, not an unfamiliar one but yet vague in meaning for many, was the ever-growing problem of LSD.

Dean Roberts offered his personal comments, comments from a recognized authority, and comments in the form of a film.

"I have no reason to think that Brevard College has a drug problem," remarked Dean Roberts, "But I would be surprised if we did not have one to a certain extent."

He continued to say that he was by no means an authority on the subject of LSD and
