

TORNADO WARNING!

BY RONNIE D. SMITH
SPORTS EDITOR

The Clarion Staff wishes to extend hearty congratulations to Coach Martin, on his being named "Conference Coach of the Year." His many achievements while at Brevard speak for themselves, but the inspiration that he has been for countless athletes over the years can never be measured. His won-loss record is outstanding, but of greater significance in his dedication to his team members and Brevard College. Coach Martin doesn't just coach a game; he makes playing it a meaningful experience. He instills in his boys a will to win and a desire to give 100 per cent. In short, he builds men. Coach Martin is a deserving man for the honor of Coach of the Conference for 1968 - 69.

With the close of basketball season. Spring is near at hand, and with Spring "a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of" what the girls think about all the time, with occasional thoughts of baseball.

Speaking of basketball which I wasn't, one of our conference foes stars was so dumb that when he received his varsity letter, his coach had to read it to him.

Since Friday night's somewhat debated call by the referees that gave Spartanburg a last second victory, somebody might really be interested to know the definition of referee. Herman L. Maslin's Treasury of Sports Humor defines a referee as a blind idiot with an intense hatred" or "a lunatic who breathes into whistles." He also defines splitting the post as "Abe Lincoln's boyhood chores" and, therefore, one might wonder about the validity of his definitions.

Although "Old Man Winter still has a hold on Brevard, the Spring sports are getting underway. Track practice has been going on for several weeks; the baseball and tennis teams are beginning workouts, and the golf team is expected to get into action soon.

Dear Editor . . .

little intellect I do have did not come from the classes. It came from small groups of students or being with some of the family in small discussion groups. Why doesn't Mr. Rankin sit in on some of the Mr. Setzer's Lunch - Ins. I am sure that he will find some types of discussion going on. An intellectual discussion does not have to be one of dead seriousness on some world shaking problem, but it can also be on some thing that tickles the groups' fancy.

Mrs. Tauscher could not have been more true than when she said, "Brevard is by no means a little heaven on earth, guided by divine Wisdom." Who causes Christianity to become perverted? What is perverted about B.C.'s Christian values? Can he answer that?

Responsibility seems to be the key factor in this situation. Have the students accepted the responsibility of being students? If they have not accepted it, then they do not deserve to have it. When they grow up, really grow up, and quit trying to Act like they are grown up then they will get some place. Until then they will have to make the best of it. One gets out exactly what he puts in.

Headen, Kagel Given Honors

Greg Headen and Joe Kagel, freshman standouts for the 1968 - 69 Brevard College basketball squad, were among six players honored with awards at the conclusion of the Western Carolinas Junior College Conference Tournament held February 27th - March 1st at Forest City.

Headen was named to the All - Tournament team for his outstanding play in the three-day affair. One of two freshmen named to the conference all - star team, the 6-6 center from Liberty scored 63 points in the tournament. Headen closed out the season with 612 points and a 21.2 average.

Kagel was awarded the coveted Sportsmanship Trophy, symbolic of the one player who best exemplifies the spirit of good sportsmanship during the tournament. A 6-4 freshman from South Bend, Indiana, he burned the nets for a 15.2 average during the season.

Both Kagel and Headen will return to next year's squad, along with forward Charlie Hunt, to form the nucleus of an experienced and talented Tornado Squad.

Bowen, Gray Perform Well In Bama Meet

Grey Bowen and Bob Gray placed fourth in their events in the open division of the Southeastern Conference Indoor Championships, held in Montgomery, Alabama, last Friday and Saturday nights. Grey Bowen qualified in the 60 yard dash on Friday night for the finals on Saturday night. Greg placed fourth in the finals with a clocking of :06.4 in his sprinting event.

Bob Gray doubled in the mile and two-mile runs. On Friday night he ran the two mile finals and clocked a 9:15 which placed him fourth in his event. Bob failed to place in the mile, but ran a 4:21.

Bulldogs Capture Title; Tornadoes Fall To L-M

Brevard Tornado Basketball squad was eliminated from championship competition at Forest City last Friday night, as Spartanburg Junior College won a highly-disputed 56-55 victory in the semi-final game of the Western Carolinas Junior College Conference Tournament.

Leading 55 - 54 with two seconds left on the clock, Brevard lost the ball to the Pioneers on a freak play. Freshman forward Charlie Hunt had the ball out of bounds and attempted a length-of-the-court pass to teammate Joe Kagel. The ball hit a light fixture, however, and was awarded to Spartanburg at mid court.

The Pioneers put the ball in play and shot three times in the remaining two seconds, the third attempt being ruled good at the buzzer by the referees and official timer. Brevard coaches Chick Martin and Larry Burch vigorously protested the decision, but to no avail.

The loss placed Brevard winners by a 71 - 65 count over Wingate Thursday night, in Saturday's consolation finals against Lees - McRae. The disheartened Tornadoes again fell by one point, 60-59.

Brevard closed out the season with a 17 - 12 overall record. The cry of "Wait till next year" was heard, as the Tornadoes will have the most experienced club in the league for the 1969-70 season. Added to the vigorous recruiting efforts being made by coaches Martin and Burch, Brevard basketball fans should enjoy a banner year next season.
