Student Participates In "Miss Virginia"

Contest Recently

Miss Linda Martin, of Chesapeake, Virginia, was elected "Miss Tidewater" during the Spring break. The title represents the cities of Chesapeake, Virginia Beach, Norfolk, and Portsmouth in Virginia.

After her selection she left for Washington, D. C. to compete in the "Miss Virginia" contest. The pageant was held April 12 - 13 at the Marriott Hotel where she attended banquets and interviews.

Although she was not a finalist in the contest, Miss Martin finished high in the bathing suit competition. She wore a one piece, white competition Jantzen suit.

Miss Martin said the pageant was good experience for her future plans in modeling.

In high school, she was "Miss Mistletoe" at the Christmas Dance, "Key Club Sweetheart," Best Looking, and also a model at Rice's Department Store, where she modeled at one time with the reigning Miss Universe.

DEAR CLARIO

CLARIO

Dear Clario:

I just wanted to speak my opinion on the recent changes in the rules. I wish to thank everyone who worked on them for our students. It was just something that couldn't go without being noticed. I'm sure many others feel the way I do. I'd also like to take this chance to thank the Presidential Council on their statement.

One who's concerned

Dear Concerned:

I'm sure they'll appreciate your thoughts and interest and thank you for presenting your opinions.

Dear Clario:

I want to be able to watch TV in the Beam parlor at night, but we're not allowed to. The boys do, why not me?

Upset

Dear upset:

We're aware of how unfair this is. It is now being considered but it most likely won't be in effect until next semester according to the new rules, the dorm mother has complete authority over her parlor. Maybe a little persuasive talking will get you somewhere.

Dear Clario:

There have been quite a few rumors going around about a few of my friends. Why can't people leave well enough alone. They've always got to get their two cents in. What can I do?

Maddening Mary

Dear Mary:

This is just how people are; and as long as you go to a school this size, there's no avoiding it. Talk to your friends and get the real story and take it from there.

The Brevard town children will present a concert of music on the grammar school level Saturday afternoon in Dunham Auditorium.

The students have been taking music lessons from members of the B. C. Music faculty.
