

Financial Aid

How Will Budget Cuts Affect You?

The U.S. Department of Education, under the leadership of Secretary of Education Terry Bell, is currently faced with serious decisions affecting over 50% of the current student body at Brevard College.

Student Financial Assistance at Brevard, under the direction of Financial Aid Administrator Ed Cunningham, consists of funds derived from three major sources. In 1981-82 the Federal Government provided 30%; N.C. State Government 36%; and Brevard College 31%. The small balance of 3% comes from private scholarships secured directly by the students, usually from their home areas. In addition many students and their families have turned to the Insured Student Loan Programs in their various states to borrow the additional necessary funds to meet the cost of higher education.

The Department of Education faces the question of being dissolved by the Reagan Administration in the near future. It has suffered severe cutbacks in funds for education as a result of the current efforts to reduce the federal budget; and it cannot make final decisions about aid to students in college until Congress acts on the current budget. It will definitely have less funds available for 1982-83.

What does all this mean to you as a student at Brevard College who will need financial help to return to Brevard next fall, or to transfer to a four year school after graduation? It means first of all to proceed as you normally would in requesting financial aid for 1982-83. That is, file the Financial Aid Form (FAF) with College Scholarship Service as soon as possible after January 1, 1982. NOW IS THE TIME.

Second, it means you should make every effort to earn and save as much money as you can this summer.

Third, it means you should alert your parents to prepare to have to spend more in 1982-83 than they did this year for your education.

Fourth, it means that Brevard, as well as all colleges, will have less funds available from Federal sources to award to deserving students.

Fifth, it means you may not be informed as early as before just how much aid you will be awarded for 1982-83.

Finally, it may mean you will be awarded less financial aid in 1982-83 than you received in 1981-82.

You should not be discouraged by these facts. On the contrary, you must strengthen your resolve to do what is necessary in order to continue your education. You may rest assured that, as in the long past history of Brevard, every student who has enrolled at Brevard and who has asked for financial help has received financial aid. Brevard College will continue to maintain this policy and philosophy.

The Financial Aid Administrator is most willing to be of any assistance he can. If you need or want advice or help please ask.

Hayes Elected Head Of 1982 United Way

Mr. Bob Hayes

Mr. Bob Hayes, Director of Financial Affairs for Brevard College, has been elected as the 1982 President of the United Way in Transylvania County.

The goal of the United Way is to consolidate and better distribute the donated moneys from the people of Transylvania County. These "gifts" donated are dispersed to 14 various agencies located throughout the county. The agencies include: the American Red Cross, the Boy Scouts, the Brevard Rescue Squad, the Lions Club (Brevard and Pisgah Forest), Jenkins Community Center, Meals-on-Wheels, Girl Scouts, Rosman Rescue Squad, the Salvation Army, the Humane Society, the Youth Association, the Forsee Program, the Transylvania Community Hospital, and Western Carolina Community Action.

Mr. Hayes' job is to appoint various committees and committee chairmen to best coordinate efforts for the needs of these various agencies and any fund raising activities. In other words, Mr. Hayes' job is to help coordinate the needs of the agencies with the donors' giving to eliminate many campaigns through the year with a one shot deal.

Mr. Hayes has been a part of the Transylvania County United Way for five years, working in various capacities as solicitor and board member, including the budget committee. Already, Mr. Hayes has been busy at work since they have surpassed their 1982 budget of $116,000 by reaching $124,000 in pledges.

The United Way is an organization whose main objective is helping others. It is quite obvious that the people of Transylvania County have no problem in giving - they give from the heart. "Our efforts are made easier," Mr. Hayes said, "due to the many unpaid volunteers who see that the agencies' needs are met." Indeed, the people of Transylvania County care a lot for their fellowman.

students' exhibit concludes today. Their work shows great imagination & talent. Another student show is planned for the end of April through graduation.

A number of films concerning art are shown this semester in the Library filmroom. Students attending two of the film series can substitute that for one Life and Series credit. The films are shown on Tuesdays at 6:00 p.m.

An inspiring look at McLarty-Goodson Classroom Building which was named in part for Bishop Kenneth Goodson, speaker at the Winter Convocation, February 17th. (Photo by Steve Rabey).

Bishop Goodson to Speak At Winter Convocation

Bishop W. Kenneth Goodson will be the guest speaker at the Brevard College Winter Convocation on Wednesday, February 17 at 10:00 a.m. in the Dunham Auditorium.

Bishop Goodson was born in Salisbury, NC, and has served a number of churches in the Western North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church. He is the former bishop of the Richmond Area Conference of the United Methodist Church in Virginia.

Bishop Goodson served as President of the Council of Bishops of the United Methodist Church in 1976-77. He was elected to the Brevard College Board of Trustees in 1953 and has since been named Trustee for Life.

Brevard students know Bishop Goodson's name very well. The McLarty-Goodson classroom is named for Bishop Goodson and Dr. Emmett McLarty.

A well-known and popular speaker, Bishop Goodson's Convocation Address will be a delight for all who attend.

College Day Today

Approximately one hundred senior Colleges in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, Kentucky, and Virginia were invited to send a representative to the second College Day program at Brevard College. Representatives from over fifty senior colleges have replied that they will participate. All students interested in receiving more information about any of the schools listed below are invited to come today, February 9th, from 2:30 - 4:30 p.m. in the library. Help yourself make a good transfer decision today.

See List On Page 7

Art Show

by Leslie Shipman

Beginning Wednesday, February 10th, the Coltrane art building will have an exhibit of faculty work. The exhibit will open at 10:00 a.m. this Wednesday with a closed session for faculty members only. The members being represented in the exhibit are: Mary Murray - ceramics, Tim Murray - sculptures & drawings, Cheryl Harrison - photographs & drawings. Students can view the exhibit any time after 11:00 on Wednesday. The show will run through the first week in March.

The first sophomore art